Panel Nears Tax Cut Nod

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Finance Committee aims to complete work and vote final approval today of the $11 billion tax cut bill. Debate by the full Senate would begin next week.

President Johnson has urged quick passage of the measure, saying it will help rocket the economy to record heights this year.

The committee vaulted a high hurdle Wednesday, approving unanimously the rate reductions for individuals that had been written in the bill originally passed by the House.

The senators made only one change. They adopted President Johnson's proposal to put the new 14 per cent withholding rate into effect as soon as the measure becomes law.

The House version, which contemplated enactment in 1963, would have dropped the withholding rate from 18 per cent to 15 per cent in 1964, and then to 14 per cent in 1965.

After it became obvious that reductions could not become legally effective until perhaps March, Johnson asked that the two-step drop in the withholding rate be junked and the 14 per cent rate be established immediately.

The total cut for individuals is estimated at $9 billion when the measure takes full effect.

The individual rate cuts in the bill would mean a tax cut averaging about 19 per cent for all taxpayers. It would be somewhat more than this for those in the bottom and top brackets, less through the middle ranges.

Two-thirds of the rate cuts would be effective for 1964, with the reductions made retroactive to Jan. 1, and one-third in 1965.

A new range of 14 to 70 per cent would be substituted for the 20 to 91 per cent rates of present law.

As it passed the House, the bill called for over-all tax cuts for individuals and corporations totaling $11.1 billion. Congressional experts said this now had been boosted to about $11.5 billion by a series of changes made by the Finance Committee.

Shastri Hinted Successor to Ailing Nehru

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Former Home Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri has returned to the Indian cabinet, strengthening speculation that he will become ailing Prime Minister Nehru's political heir.

Shastri, 59, was appointed minister without portfolio Wednesday, almost five months after he and five other cabinet leaders resigned at the 74-year old prime minister's request. Nehru asked them to give full time to trying to revitalize his Congress party, torn by fractional fighting after its long years of unchallenged power.

Reliable sources said Shastri, a middle of the road, will replace Nehru as government leader of Parliament and in effect will be deputy prime minister.

Shastri has been the politician most mentioned as Nehru's successor since a slight stroke Jan. 7 forced the prime minister to curtail his activities. Shastri has been neutral in the constant strains between the party's left and right wings.

As parliamentary leader Shastri will be the senior man in a trio with Home Minister Gulzarilal Nanda and Finance Minister T.T. Krishnamachari, who are handling Nehru's routine administrative duties.

MERIDEN, Conn. (AP) — Richard Cardinal Cushing, Roman Catholic archbishop of Boston, will speak at an evening service of St. Andrew's Episcopal Church April 13.

News of World in Brief

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Two youths were sentenced to a year in jail as a result of something they didn't do: Dispose of a pair of fancy shoes with buttons.

"I'd know those shoes anywhere," testified Samuel J. Greenstein, owner of a department store from which 42 pairs of pants, 55 sports shirts and one pair of shoes were stolen. "I've been trying to sell them for 10 years."

Eddie McQueen and Bernard Camon, both 17, were found guilty Wednesday of the burglary.

WASHINGTON (AP) — A federal grand jury charged today that fraudulent and misleading statements were used in national advertising of Regimen tablets, a reducing drug.

The Justice Department described the tablets as practically worthless.

A 58-count indictment was returned against Drug Research Corp., which produces the tablets—several individuals and a firm which tests drug products.

Raft Raises Hope in Hunt For Airplane

HONOLULU (AP) — The Coast Guard launched a search Wednesday night for a raft that was reported sighted in the area where an Air Force Globemaster with nine crewmen aboard vanished near Johnston Island on Jan. 2.

The Air Force said five crewmen of an Air Force cargo plane reported sighting the raft. They said they could see one man, standing up and waving, in the orange and yellow raft.

The sighting was in an area 250 miles northwest of Johnston Island, the same general area where the Air Force plane disappeared two weeks ago with a crew of eight and a Navy enlisted man and a corpse aboard.

The Navy man was escorting the body of a comrade home from Tokyo.

Authorities said they knew of no other raft likely to be in the area.

Three Navy planes were dispatched to the area and ships were also reported steaming toward the scene.

The sighting came on the same day that the Air Force had officially declared the crew of the missing plane dead.

An extensive search for the plane's crew was called off Jan. 10. It cost about $1.5 million, with 70 planes logging nearly 4,000 flying hours during the search.

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — South Viet Nam's advisory legislature called today for a break in relations with France to protest President Charles de Gaulle's plan for neutralization of Viet Nam.

The Council of Notables, appointed after the Nov. 1 coup, made its recommendation to the military regime after hearing reports from Foreign Minister Pham Dang Lan and Information Minister Brig. Gen. Do Mau.

De Gaulle's proposal has been widely protested in Saigon. Although the government has remained officially silent, the ruling junta has made clear it will not accept neutralization.

Young Asks Probe Of Barry's Claim

WASHINGTON (AP) — There should be an investigation of Sen. Barry Goldwater's claim of a dependability gap in the U.S. intercontinental ballistic missile program, says Sen. Stephen M. Young, D-Ohio.

Referring Wednesday to the claim by the Republican presidential aspirant, Young said in a newsletter to constituents: "When a senator of the stature of Sen. Goldwater raises such an issue I think it should be investigated."

Young said he thinks the Senate Preparedness subcommittee should hold meetings on the subject—closed meetings at first—and then acquaint the public with its findings.

Civil Rights Bill Gathers New Backing

WASHINGTON (AP) — House passage of a civil rights bill by Feb. 7 appeared a strong possibility today as the result of a revolt in the House Rules Committee.

A bipartisan majority of the committee is preparing to seize control and cut off hearings on the bill in time to get it passed before the House takes its annual Lincoln birthday recess.

The revolt is aimed at Chairman Howard W. Smith, D-Va., leader of the Southern forces opposing the bill, who had planned to continue the hearings until the end of January.

Smith headed off any attempt to end the hearings Wednesday by hastily adjourning them for the day while his chief adversaries were absent plotting strategy. But a showdown today appeared inevitable.

Rep. Richard Bolling, D-Mo., leader of the forces trying to speed action on the bill, said Wednesday night he is prepared to force a vote on ending the hearings at today's session.

Bolling is counting on the support of the committee's Republicans in his maneuver. There are 10 Democrats and 5 Republicans on the committee but 4 of the Democrats are from the South.

Bolling has the backing of at least one influential Republican, Rep. Clarence Brown of Ohio.

Their strategy calls for a vote to end public hearings and move into executive session. There, another motion will be made to have the committee vote next week to report the bill to the floor.

Pressure on the Rules Committee to move the bill quickly is coming from both the Democratic and Republican leaders in the House. The Democrats are feeling the heat from President Johnson and the Republicans have decided they would be in a better position to hold Lincoln Day rallies if they had helped pass a civil rights bill.

Bolling has told Smith of his plan in hopes it won't be necessary to use force to cut off the hearings.

Woman Thug Kills Mute in Bar Holdup

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — A young woman armed with a pistol held up a downtown tavern Wednesday night and, despite pleas for mercy, shot and fatally wounded a mute who could not hear an order she gave.

The deaf mute, John Johnkins, 35, died today in a hospital.

Police lodged first-degree murder and robbery charges against a white woman who gave her name as Miss Anita Furrow, 23, and a Negro identified as Robert Hayes, 37, a lookout. Police later said the girl was Carla Leach of Columbus, Ohio, and had come here earlier this month.

Johnkins entered Iggy's Tavern as the woman was about to leave after the bartender had handed her about $65 from the till, police said.

The two other patrons were lying on the floor, at her order, police said, and she directed Johnkins to follow suit. The bartender and the other patrons begged her to show mercy toward Johnkins, but she shot him in the abdomen and left, police said.

Miss Furrow and Hayes were arrested a short time later.

Kite Wire Brings Death to Boy, 8

CINCINNATI (AP) — One boy died Wednesday night and another remained in critical condition of burns suffered after their kite struck electric wires near their Clermont County homes.

David Hicks, 8, son of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Hicks, died in a Cincinnati hospital several hours after the accident.

Injured was Harry Adkins, 12 son of Mr. and Mrs. Aubra C. Adkins, neighbors of the Hicks. He was listed in critical condition in Childrens Hospital here.

Both suffered severe burns and other injuries.

Authorities said the boys were holding the kite by a thin wire when it snagged on the high power wires.

Expanded Baker Probe Is Urged

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. H.R. Gross has called for a separate House investigation into Robert G. Baker's business affairs in the wake of Senate testimony that President Johnson once received a free stereo set from a Baker associate.

"This scandal has so many ramifications that it would appear the House should set up a special committee to examine some of the tangents of the Baker probe," the Iowa Republican told the House Wednesday.

The Baker investigation is being conducted by the Senate Rules Committee, which plans to make public today personal financial statements filed by the former secretary to the Senate Democrats in connection with applications for bank loans.

Baker, a protégé of Johnson when the President was the Senate Democratic leader, resigned his $19,600-a-year post under fire last Oct. 7. The Senate committee is investigating whether the 35-year-old former page boy from Pickens, S.C., engaged in activities that conflicted with his official duties.

Johnson's name was injected into the investigation by Don B. Reynolds, a local insurance man who said his firm lists Baker as a vice president.

Gross said the proposed House investigation should include "the activities of one Matthew M. McCloskey, contractor for the construction of many federally financed buildings and bridges, including a badly defective Veterans Administration hospital in Boston, Mass."

McCloskey, a Philadelphia contractor, had been treasurer of the Democratic National Committee for eight years when the late President John F. Kennedy named him ambassador to Ireland in June 1962. McCloskey is giving up the post to return to fund raising for the Democratic party.

Wednesday the Washington Evening Star disclosed that the Justice Department has started an investigation to determine if illegal collusion was involved in the handling of the D.C. Stadium construction project in Washington. The McCloskey firm built the stadium.

In his testimony to the Rules Committee, Reynolds said he paid $4,000 to Baker and $1,500 to William N. McLeod Jr., former clerk of the House Distributed Committee, for helping him get the construction performance bond on the stadium project had been discussed at a meeting in 1960 attended by him, Baker, McLeod, McCloskey and Rep. John L. McMillan, D-S.C., chairman of the House District Committee.

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — World leadership in rocket power may be the prize next Monday when the United States plans to launch the Saturn 1 on its first two-stage test flight.

If all goes well, the rocket will lift a 37,700-pound satellite nearly three times heavier than any previous payload.

The satellite, mostly dead weight with no scientific value, will dwarf the largest payloads orbited by the Russians — Sputniks 7 and 8 which weighed 14,232 pounds each. The heaviest American space payload weighed 10,200 pounds.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration today disclosed details of the Saturn 1, which has been on a launching pad here since last August, waiting out months of checkout and several weeks technical delay.

The rocket stands 164 feet tall and fully fueled weighs 562 tons. The Statue of Liberty is 151 feet and weighs 227.5 tons.

The first stage, 21.5 feet in diameter, has an eight-engine powerplant which will generate 1.5 million pounds of thrust 34 million horsepower.

This is designed to lift the rocket above the earth's atmosphere. At an altitude of 48 miles, the real key to Saturn 1's power flashes to action: a second stage with six engines that burn liquid hydrogen and produce 90,000 pounds of thrust. Hydrogen delivers 40 per cent more punch than fuels like the high-grade kerosene in the first stage. It generates a tremendous kick when ignited in the vacuum of space.

The second stage will be flown for the first time Monday. Four earlier flights used only the first stage.

Experts believe a good test will give the United States a booster lead over Russia. Best estimates place the thrust of the big Soviet space rockets at between 1 and 1.2 million pounds. There is no evidence of their progress with liquid hydrogen.

Indonesians Remain Hostile

Pact with Kennedy
Lasts Only Hours

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — President Sukarno declared tonight Indonesia will continue its hostile confrontation policy against Malaysia.

"Onward: No retreat!" The president said, repeating a slogan that hostility toward Malaysia would continue until the new country is crushed.

Sukarno's remarks came only hours after he and Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy issued statements saying there would be a cease-fire along the Malaysia-Indonesian border and that Indonesia would work for another summit conference on the Malaysia crisis.

At the same time Information Minister Roeslan Abdulgani declared in a radio address that Sukarno's agreement for a cease-fire and to work for a new summit conference did not mean that confrontation has been terminated.

After announcement of the agreement, Kennedy flew to Bangkok, Thailand, for three hours of conferences with Thai officials. He was to go on to London to give British officials a review of his talks in Asia.

The attorney general said he hoped the foreign ministers' meeting would lead to a new summit conference of the principals in the Malaysia dispute—Indonesian President Sukarno, Prime Minister Tunku Abdul Rahman of Malaysia and Philippine President Diosdado Macapagal.

However, some senior diplomats in Jakarta were not overly optimistic that another summit conference would produce a fi-

Fisher Irked By Burton; Liz Weeps

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Elizabeth Taylor and Richard Burton were here today for a possible solution of their hopes to marry, but angry words from Eddie Fisher made their chances seem remote.

A duel of epithets and a mob scene were added to filmdom's most famous—and lengthiest—love epic Wednesday.

Said Burton: Fisher says publicly he wants to ease the way for Miss Taylor's divorce from him, but his demands "are in the realm of the fantastic." The singer should make his demands public, said Burton, or "live up to his public image" and do what he calls "the gentlemanly thing."

Said Fisher: "I have just read Mr. Burton's pronouncement on the proper behavior of a gentleman, and I am convinced, now more than ever before, that he deserves an Oscar for sheer gall."

"I hardly think that Mr. Burton is the one to lecture on morals, integrity, and honesty to me or to anyone else."

"Get me out of here," Miss Taylor said tearfully.

"Where is the way out?" said her fifth-husband-to-be.

Soviet Files New Protest

Multilateral Atom Force Is Decried

GENEVA (AP) — The Soviet Union said today the West must scrap its proposed multilateral nuclear force before there can be any agreement to stop the spread of nuclear weapons.

The Soviet disarmament negotiator, Semyon K. Tsarapkin, told newsmen "the multilateral force has to be cleared away" before East and West can reach an agreement on President Johnson's proposal Tuesday to bar nuclear weapons from nations that don't have them. Johnson worded his proposal so that the nuclear force the United States has proposed for the North Atlantic Treaty Organization would be exempt.

Tsarapkin said his government was studying Johnson's five-point arms proposal and would reply to it in due course.

The Soviet reaction to the proposal to stop the spread of nuclear weapons surprised no one. Tsarapkin in his speech at the resumption of the 17-nation disarmament conference Tuesday made a similar proposal, but he called specifically for it to apply to the multilateral force.

Western delegations at this stage are certain to reject any formal Soviet demand for abandonment of the NATO nuclear force. But there were some indications that if the Soviet Union accepted genuine and far-reaching disarmament measures together with control and inspection procedures demanded by the West, the United States would consider scrapping the multilateral force.

Many Western officials believe the costly multilateral force would be made obsolete by the new security that NATO members would obtain from such an unprecedented disarmament agreement.

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — South Viet Nam's advisory legislature called today for a break in relations with France to protest President Charles de Gaulle's plan for neutralization of Viet Nam.

The Council of Notables, appointed after the Nov. 1 coup, made its recommendation to the military regime after hearing reports from Foreign Minister Pham Dang Lan and Information Minister Brig. Gen. Do Mau.

De Gaulle's proposal has been widely protested in Saigon. Although the government has remained officially silent, the ruling junta has made clear it will not accept neutralization.

LUSAKA, Northern Rhodesia (AP) — Dr. Kenneth Kaunda, 39, a former schoolteacher, has become the first prime minister of copper-rich Northern Rhodesia.

Kaunda was sworn in Wednesday after his United National Independence party scored a decisive victory in a legislative assembly election.

NAIROBI, Kenya (AP) — About 1,400 Asians are en route to Bombay, India, after resigning from government jobs in Kenya. They claimed their salaries.

Young Asks Probe Of Barry's Claim

WASHINGTON (AP) — There should be an investigation of Sen. Barry Goldwater's claim of a dependability gap in the U.S. intercontinental ballistic missile program, says Sen. Stephen M. Young, D-Ohio.

Referring Wednesday to the claim by the Republican presidential aspirant, Young said in a newsletter to constituents "When a senator of the stature of Sen. Goldwater raises such an issue I think it should be investigated."

Young said he thinks the Senate Preparedness Subcommittee should hold meetings on the subject—closed meetings at first—and then acquaint the public with its findings.

Woman Thug Kills Mute in Bar Holdup

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — A young woman armed with a pistol held up a downtown tavern Wednesday night and, despite pleas for mercy, shot and fatally wounded a mute who could not hear an order she gave.

The deaf mute, John Johnkins, 35, died today in a hospital.

Police lodged first-degree murder and robbery charges against a white woman who gave her name as Miss Anita Furrow, 23, and a Negro identified as Robert Hayes, 37, a lookout. Police later said the girl was Carla Leach of Columbus, Ohio, and had come here earlier this month.

Johnkins entered Iggy's Tavern as the woman was about to leave after the bartender had handed her about $65 from the till, police said.

The two other patrons were lying on the floor, at her order, police said, and she directed Johnkins to follow suit. The bartender and the other patrons begged her to show mercy toward Johnkins, but she shot him in the abdomen and left, police said.

Miss Furrow and Hayes were arrested a short time later.

Kite Wire Brings Death to Boy, 8

CINCINNATI (AP) — One boy died Wednesday night and another remained in critical condition of burns suffered after their kite struck electric wires near their Clermont County homes.

David Hicks, 8, son of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Hicks, died in a Cincinnati hospital several hours after the accident.

Injured was Harry Adkins, 12, son of Mr. and Mrs. Aubra C. Adkins, neighbors of the Hicks. He was listed in critical condition in Children's Hospital here.

Both suffered severe burns and other injuries.

Authorities said the boys were holding the kite by a thin wire when it snagged on the high power wires.

Saturn Test Is Awaited

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — World leadership in rocket power may be the prize next Monday when the United States plans to launch the Saturn 1 on its first two-stage test flight.

If all goes well, the rocket will lift a 37,700-pound satellite nearly three times heavier than any previous payload.

The satellite, mostly dead weight with no scientific value, will dwarf the largest payloads orbited by the Russians — Sputniks 7 and 8 which weighed 14,292 pounds each. The heaviest American space payload weighed 10,200 pounds.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration today disclosed details of the Saturn 1, which has been on a launching pad here since last August, waiting out months of checkout and several weeks technical delay.

The rocket stands 164 feet tall and fully fueled weighs 562 tons. The Statue of Liberty is 151 feet and weighs 227.5 tons.

The first stage, 21.5 feet in diameter, has an eight-engine powerplant which will generate 1.5 million pounds of thrust 34 million horsepower.

This is designed to lift the rocket above the earth's atmosphere. At an altitude of 48 miles, the real key to Saturn 1's power flashes to action: a second stage with six engines

Most of Yankees In Panama Leaving

BALBOA, C.Z. (AP) — U.S. Army Southern Command headquarters announced Wednesday most of the nonresident American dependents remaining in the Canal Zone would return to the United States. A spokesman said they are due to leave Friday.

About 3,000 dependents moved into the zone from the Republic of Panama during the recent crisis. About a third returned to the United States Jan. 16 on a volunteer basis.

The spokesman said most of those remaining also had volunteered to go, in view of the shortage of Canal Zone housing.

Civil Rights Bill Gathers New Backing

WASHINGTON (AP) — House passage of a civil rights bill by Feb. 7 appeared a strong possibility today as the result of a revolt in the House Rules Committee.

A bipartisan majority of the committee is preparing to seize control and cut off hearings on the bill in time to get it passed before the House takes its annual Lincoln birthday recess.

The revolt is aimed at Chairman Howard W. Smith, D-Va., leader of the Southern forces opposing the bill, who had planned to continue the hearings until the end of January.

Smith headed off any attempt to end the hearings Wednesday by hastily adjourning them for the day while his chief adversaries were absent plotting strategy. But a showdown today appeared inevitable.

Rep. Richard Bolling, D-Mo., leader of the forces trying to speed action on the bill, said Wednesday night he is prepared to force a vote on ending the hearings at today's session. Bolling is counting on the support of the committee's Republicans in his maneuver. There are 10 Democrats and 5 Republicans on the committee but 4 of the Democrats are from the South.

Bolling has the backing of at least one influential Republican, Rep. Clarence Brown of Ohio.

Their strategy calls for a vote to end public hearings and move into executive session. There, another motion will be made to have the committee vote next week to report the bill to the floor.

Pressure on the Rules Committee to move the bill quickly is coming from both the Democratic and Republican leaders in the House. The Democrats are feeling the heat from President Johnson and the Republicans have decided they would be in a better position to hold Lincoln Day rallies if they had helped pass a civil rights bill.

Bolling has told Smith of his plan in hopes it won't be necessary to use force to cut off the hearings.

Sukarno Breaks Word on Truce

Expanded Baker Probe Is Urged

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. H.R. Gross has called for a separate House investigation into Robert G. Baker's business affairs in the wake of Senate testimony that President Johnson once received a free stereo set from a Baker associate.

"This scandal has so many ramifications that it would appear the House should set up a special committee to examine some of the tangents of the Baker probe," the Iowa Republican told the House Wednesday.

The Baker investigation is being conducted by the Senate Rules Committee, which plans to make public today personal financial statements filed by the former secretary to the Senate Democrats in connection with applications for bank loans.

Baker, a protégé of Johnson when the President was the Senate Democratic leader, resigned his $19,600-a-year post under fire last Oct. 7. The Senate committee is investigating whether the 35-year-old former page boy from Pickens, S.C., engaged in activities that conflicted with his official duties.

Johnson's name was injected into the investigation by Don B. Reynolds, a local insurance man who said his firm lists Baker as a vice president.

Gross said the proposed House investigation should include "the activities of one Matthew M. McCloskey, contractor for the construction of many federally financed buildings and bridges, including a badly defective Veterans Administration hospital in Boston, Mass."

McCloskey, a Philadelphia contractor, had been treasurer of the Democratic National Committee for eight years when the late President John F. Kennedy named him ambassador to Ireland in June 1962. McCloskey is giving up the post to return to fund raising for the Democratic party.

Wednesday the Washington Evening Star disclosed that the Justice Department has started an investigation to determine if illegal collusion was involved in the handling of the D.C. Stadium construction project in Washington. The McCloskey firm built the stadium.

In his testimony to the Rules Committee, Reynolds said he paid $4,000 to Baker and $1,500 to William N. McLeod Jr., former clerk of the House District Committee, for helping him get the construction performance bond on the stadium.

Reynolds said the stadium project had been discussed at a meeting in 1960 attended by him, Baker, McLeod, McCloskey and Rep. John L. McMillan, D-S.C., chairman of the House District Committee.

Castro OKs Soviet Stand

Cuban Opposes Red China Policy

MOSCOW (AP) — Prime Minister Fidel Castro has put Cuba behind Premier Khrushchev in his ideological dispute with Communist China following a Soviet pledge to pay more than $2.6 billion for Cuban sugar in the next six years.

Castro's support of the Kremlin was proclaimed in a joint Cuban-Soviet communique issued Wednesday night to mark the end of the Cuban leader's 10-day visit to Moscow. Castro is with Khrushchev on a hunting holiday in the Ukraine.

Castro praised Moscow's policy of peaceful coexistence, called the treaty limiting nuclear testing "a step forward toward peace and disarmament" and supported the Soviet Communist party's measures "to remove the existing differences and strengthen the unity and cohesion of the ranks of the international Communist movement."

The statement appeared to end Castro's flirtation with Red China, which takes opposite positions on all these key issues.

Like Communist China, Cuba has refused to sign the Moscow-supported test-ban treaty. This has annoyed the Soviets in view of their heavy economic aid to the Caribbean nation.

While the communique gave no specific Castro pledge to sign the treaty, the Cuban government praised "the successes achieved by the Soviet Union in the struggle for ending nuclear tests and the agreement to keep nuclear weapons off vehicles in orbit."

Khrushchev renewed his promise to protect Cuba from any U.S. invasion "with all means at its disposal." The last such promise was made several weeks ago at a Kremlin ceremony marking the fifth anniversary of the Cuban revolution on New Year's Day.

Ohio Traffic Toll in '63: 2,001 Lives

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Traffic accidents claimed 2,001 lives in Ohio during 1963, an increase of 137 over 1962, Highway Safety Director Warren C. Nelson said today in a preliminary report.

Nelson said the approximate seven per cent increase is similar to the experience of other large states and the entire nation.

The highest toll in Ohio was recorded in 1957 when 2,053 persons were killed in traffic. Nelson said official figures for last year will not be available until the certification of all injuries is recorded.

"Based on miles of travel," Nelson said, "Ohio's climbing traffic toll was to be expected since motor vehicles probably will roll up a staggering 40.6 billion miles of travel in 1963 as compared to 39.9 billion miles in 1962."

Nelson also announced the Monday deadline for entries in Ohio's traffic safety slogan essay contest. Entries must be postmarked by midnight and include a traffic safety slogan and an essay under 100 words on "Why I believe my slogan will help reduce traffic accidents." The grand prize is Ohio's No. 1 auto license plates.

Indonesians

Indonesian Foreign Minister Subandrio, appearing at a joint news conference with Kennedy, said the cease-fire in the undeclared guerrilla war in Borneo probably could be implemented within a week. He implied that Indonesian regular army troops would prevent raiders crossing from Indonesian Borneo into the Malaysian jungles of Sabah and Sarawak states.

There was no immediate comment from the British Embassy. Britain is pledged to defend Malaysia, where it retains bases, and several thousand British and British-hired Gurkha troops are in North Borneo. Sukarno, ambitious for Indonesia to be the dominant power in Southeast Asia, contends that Malaysia is a device to preserve Britain's colonial influence.

The Philippines also has opposed Malaysia but only in the diplomatic field and without the threats of violence that came from Jakarta. Philippine opposition is based on that nation's claim to Sabah, the former territory of British North Borneo. Kennedy said Sukarno, Macapagal and Rahman all had agreed they were ready for new talks without preconditions. But he said all three also had agreed that new three-power talks were unlikely to fail unless a cease-fire was implemented.

One precondition that was dropped was Rahman's demand that Indonesia and the Philippines recognize his country. Kennedy said all three leaders had agreed not to let this point interfere with a conference, and Subandrio said it would be the chief question for summit discussion.

Another change in the relief laws which recently went into effect does away with the one-year residency requirement in order to become eligible for a relief program.

Stock Mart Prices Mixed

NEW YORK (AP) — Stock market prices turned mixed early this afternoon after following a brief continuation of Wednesday's rally. Trading was active.

Gains and losses of fractions to about a point prevailed among most key stocks.

Most cigarette stocks declined while cigar manufacturers advanced. Reports were that cigarette sales were declining as a result of the government report on smoking and that cigar sales were rising.

Market averages nudged further into new high ground at the start of trading, following the achievement of historic closing highs by these indicators Wednesday. It was an irregular rise, however, and failed to hold many of its gains.

Motors declined. Steels, rails, oils, aerospace issues and building materials were mixed.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .6 at 291.6 with industrials up 1.2, rails up .1 and utilities unchanged.

K of C Lists New Members

Hannan Council 5297, Knights of Columbus, held an exemplification of the first degree for four new members Monday evening.

Members of the new class, to be known as the John F. Kennedy Memorial Class, are Robert T. Cassidy, Joseph E. Ebret, Harold Holt, and Roy H. Huffer Jr.

Out-of-town guests for the initiation ceremony included E. James Groeber and H. E. Hunter, both K of C officers from Chillicothe.

Stanley Stevens, a local member, was awarded the "Knight of the Month" award.

William Thornton, grand knight, announced there will be a basketball game 1:30 p.m. Sunday at the armory with K of C members opposing members of the Columbian Squires. A skating party will be held 7:30 p.m. Sunday for members of the K of C, Columbian Squires and Girls Club.

Ohio Traffic Toll in '63: 2,001 Lives

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Traffic accidents claimed 2,001 lives in Ohio during 1963, an increase of 137 over 1962, Highway Safety Director Warren C. Nelson said today in a preliminary report.

Nelson said the approximate seven per cent increase is similar to the experience of other large states and the entire nation.

The highest toll in Ohio was recorded in 1957 when 2,053 persons were killed in traffic. Nelson said official figures for last year will not be available until the certification of all injuries is recorded.

"Based on miles of travel," Nelson said, "Ohio's climbing traffic toll was to be expected since motor vehicles probably will roll up a staggering 40.6 billion miles of travel in 1963 as compared to 39.9 billion miles in 1962."

Nelson also announced the Monday deadline for entries in Ohio's traffic safety slogan essay contest. Entries must be postmarked by midnight and include a traffic safety slogan and an essay under 100 words on "Why I believe my slogan will help reduce traffic accidents." The grand prize is Ohio's No. 1 auto license plates.

Rhodes Alters Signals on New School

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Gov. James A. Rhodes informed two northwest Ohio congressmen during his trip to Washington Wednesday that his administration no longer plans to locate a technical institute at the abandoned Rossford Army Depot in Wood County.

Rhodes told Reps. Delbert L. Latta of Bowling Green and Thomas L. Ashley of Toledo that final decisions on location sites for such schools rest with the Ohio Board of Regents.

But he said a study has shown that technical institutes should be situated near engineering colleges and he will recommend the board use that guideline in selecting sites.

Under an earlier proposal, Bowling Green State University would build and operate an institute on part of the Rossford Depot, while the remaining industrial development.

Rhodes said he will recommend that the entire Rossford property be used for industrial development. But he also observed that the program to locate technical institutes still is in the exploratory stage.

NEW YORK (AP) — Stock market prices turned mixed early this afternoon after following a brief continuation of Wednesday's rally. Trading was active.

Gains and losses of fractions to about a point prevailed among most key stocks.

Most cigarette stocks declined while cigar manufacturers advanced. Reports were that cigarette sales were declining as a result of the government report on smoking and that cigar sales were rising.

Market averages nudged further into new high ground at the start of trading, following the achievement of historic closing highs by these indicators Wednesday. It was an irregular rise, however, and failed to hold many of its gains.

Motors declined. Steels, rails, oils, aerospace issues and building materials were mixed.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .6 at 291.6 with industrials up 1.2, rails up .1 and utilities unchanged.

K of C Lists New Members

Hannan Council 5297, Knights of Columbus, held an exemplification of the first degree for four new members Monday evening.

Members of the new class, to be known as the John F. Kennedy Memorial Class, are Robert T. Cassidy, Joseph E. Ebbrecht, Harold Holt, and Roy H. Huffer Jr.

Out-of-town guests for the initiation ceremony included E. James Groeber and H. E. Hunter, both K of C officers from Chillicothe.

Stanley Stevens, a local member, was awarded the "Knight of the Month" award.

William M. Thornton, grand knight, announced there will be a basketball game 1:30 p.m. Sunday at the armory with K of C members opposing members of the Columbian Squires. A skating party will be held 7:30 p.m. Sunday for members of the K of C, Columbian Squires and Girls Club.

DiSalle Gives Advice on Political Life

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Former Gov. Michael V. DiSalle, in a rare public appearance, said financial independence is a great asset to a man seeking public office.

Speaking at the Toledo Junior Chamber of Commerce banquet Wednesday night honoring the "young man of the year," DiSalle said in today's world it almost seems that a political candidate must be economically independent — in a business of his own.

He said he is pessimistic about the chance of a young man employed by a corporation doing well in politics. Even the most liberal of corporations soon forget that the man in public service, who could give only cursory attention to business responsibilities, would have other equally demanding duties, he said.

In another piece of advice to persons considering politics, DiSalle warned that persons who choose to enter the political arena must not be the type who will flinch when his errors are made public.

Earlier, he told newsmen he still is considering entering the race for the Democratic nomination for congressman — at large.

Mrs. Cecil Bower and daughter, Mrs. Roger Wood, returned Sunday after a week's visit with Mr. and Mrs. John Bright and children, Johnny and Penny, at Columbus, Ga.

Mrs. Bright and children accompanied them home and expect to visit here for a few weeks.

Saturday evening dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin in Jones were Mrs. Marie Preston of Milwaukee, Wis., Mr. and Mrs. Charles Jewson of Ashland, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Jones and Miss Ora Rittenour of Kingston.

Mrs. Wava Norman was among the guests at a bridal shower Tuesday evening, at Boyer's Restaurant in Circleville.

The guest of honor was Miss Carol Torchick of Sedalia. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Torchick who formerly lived at Route 1, Circleville. She will be married Feb. 9 to Mr. Ralph England, son of Mr. and Mrs. Willard England. The groom to be is a grandson of Mrs. Norman.

Hostesses for the party were Mrs. Russell England and the misses Dorothy, Eleanor, and Anne Dresbach.

Mr. and Mrs. David Nogel of Dayton spent the weekend here with his mother, Mrs. Aseaneath Nogel, and sister, Miss Mary Nogel.

Mrs. Tom Roos and son, Scott Kreisel, visited from Friday to Tuesday with Mrs. Roos' father, Mr. Forrest Kreisel.

Miss Mary L. Harpster presided at the meeting of the Ne Plus Ultra Class Tuesday in the Parish Hall of the Methodist Church.

The class sang "The Light of the World is Jesus", followed by devotions by Mrs. Curtis Pyle. Her subject was, "Thoughts Rule The World".

The usual business meeting was held. The treasurer, Miss Mildred Holderman, gave a financial report for 1963. It was voted to pay for one of the palms recently purchased for the sanctuary.

January birthdays were recognized and Miss Harpster presented each with a pair of pot-holders which she had made.

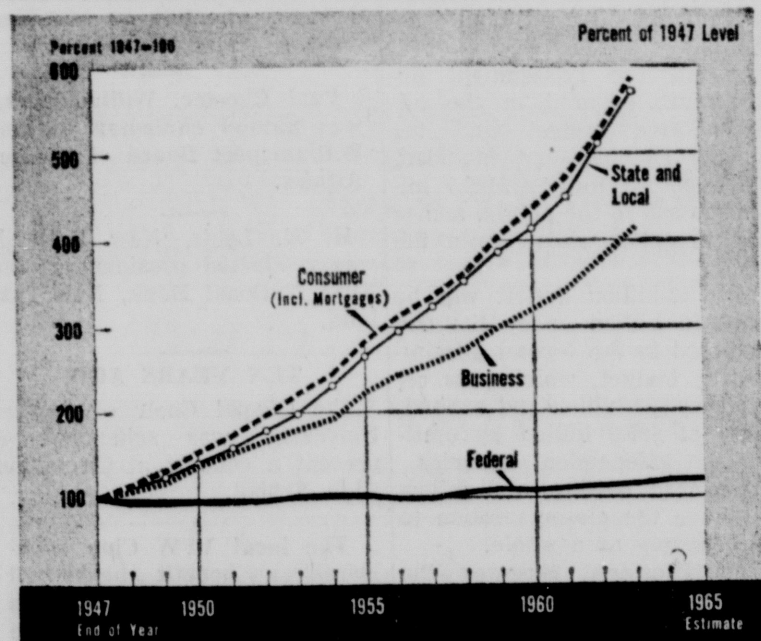

Two visitors were present, Mrs. Effie Wolfe from California, and Mrs. Richard Beavers.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Wallace Evans, Mrs. Ada Search, Mrs. Wava Norman and Mrs. Aseaneath Nogel.

Inger Unafraid In Filmland Now

By ARMAND ARCHERD
Central Press Association
Correspondent

Hollywood — Making movies is a "vacation" for actors recently graduated from television. The filming of TV shows is a constant battle against time — time is $$$.

Actors have to jump from one set to another with rare retakes and little time between TV shots. And pages of dialog have to be learned each night—not between scenes.

Invariably an actor-alumnus of TV, "graduated" to feature films, tells us, "What a picnic it is to be making movies!" However, when Inger Stevens returned to feature film-making (in "The NEW Interns") while still in production filming her TV series, "The Farmer's Daughter," there was little vacation for her in movies.

But, she wasn't complaining. As a matter of fact, the film's producer, Robert Cohn, and eager-beaver himself, called us to extol his admiration for, as well as his amazement at, Miss S. "She's not only the first one on the set — she's the most professional."

Fortunately, "The NEW Interns" and "The Farmer's Daughter" were shooting on the same film lot in Hollywood, both being products of Columbia studios.

Inger has bounded back in Hollywood with a successful and secure leap. She's not the scared actress who left this town four years ago, when it looked like she might never return.

"Hollywood doesn't frighten me any more," she now smiles. "I better understand the people and the business and I no longer take either very seriously."

She took it pretty seriously on that day four years ago when she turned down a role given her by Paramount and was placed on suspension.

GI Smoking Slated To Be Discouraged

WASHINGTON (AP) — The top doctors of the Army, Navy and Air Force have recommended steps aimed at discouraging smoking among the 2.7 million men and women in uniform, it was learned today.

There would be no attempt to prohibit cigarette smoking. The Associated Press was told, but the military surgeon general proposed:

1. An educational program intended to point out to all service people the potentially harmful effects of smoking.

2. An end to service participation in what one surgeon general called "promotional schemes." Under this heading, he included gifts of cigarettes to military hospitals.

The surgeons general met Wednesday with Dr. Shirley C. Fisk, the Defense Department's health director. They discussed the Public Health Service's recent report linking cigarette smoking with lung cancer and various other life-shortening diseases.

Inger Stevens, in costume for her TV "Farmer's Daughter."

Following the suspension, she became a disappointed, disillusioned young girl. Her personal life also complicated her professional problems. So she left for Europe to try to find herself.

"I did all sorts of things," she reveals. "I spent time with Ingmar Bergman, Fellini and others. I gambled at Monte Carlo, swam in the Mediterranean, went to impressionist museums in Paris."

After thus "punishing" herself, she went back to work — in television, where her fine performances, such as "Price of Tomatoes," which won her an Emmy nomination, again brought her to top Hollywood recognition.

She won her TV series, and the feature, her first one since "The World, The Flesh and the Devil," released in 1959. It was an offbeat film, like so many she had played. And in "The NEW Interns," Miss Stevens plays a social worker whose mind snaps after being sexually assaulted by three hoodlums.

"I guess I was signed for this," she laughed, "because I've acquired a reputation for playing troubled characters. If I played them with any degree of conviction, it's due to the fact I've had a problem or two during my own lifetime."

Inger is the product of a broken home (her parents were divorced when she was a youngster), a bitter marriage and a couple of unhappy romances. But she says she now has hope and confidence in the future.

Ruby Mental Test Schedule Still Secret

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — The time, place and extent of the psychiatric examination to be given Jack Ruby, slayer of accused presidential assassin Lee Harvey Oswald, remain a professional secret.

Dist. Judge Joe B. Brown named Dr. R. L. Stubblefield of the Southwestern Medical School in Dallas, Dr. John T. Holbrook of Beverly Hills Sanitarium and Clinic in Dallas, and Dr. Milton Towler of the University of Texas Medical School at Galveston as the three psychiatrists to examine the 52-year-old night club operator.

Judge Brown said it would be up to the three psychiatrists to conduct the tests and that he did not know specifically what the examination would include.

"I am under instructions from Judge Brown to make no announcement as to what the tests will include, where they will be given or when they will be given," Dr. Stubblefield said late Wednesday.

Earlier, Dr. Holbrook said he did not know when or where the tests would be held. Asked if they would be extensive, he said "I hope so."

Shortly after Judge Brown announced the Tuesday appointments, Dr. Towler said in Galveston he had agreed to examine Ruby "from a neurological standpoint."

When he returned the dog had pushed all the car door lock buttons, locking himself safely inside.

Hollywood — Making movies is a "vacation" for actors recently graduated from television. The filming of TV shows is a constant battle against time — time is $$$$. Actors have to jump from one set to another with rare retakes and little time between TV shots. And pages of dialog have to be learned each night—not between scenes.

Invariably an actor-alumnus of TV, "graduated" to feature films, tells us, "What a picnic it is to be making movies!" However, when Inger Stevens returned to feature film-making (in "The NEW Interns") while still in production filming her TV series, "The Farmer's Daughter," there was little vacation for her in movies.

But, she wasn't complaining. As a matter of fact, the film's producer, Robert Cohn, and eager-beaver himself, called us to extol his admiration for, as well as his amazement at, Miss S. "She's not only the first one on the set — she's the most professional."

Fortunately, "The NEW Interns" and "The Farmer's Daughter" were shooting on the same film lot in Hollywood, both being products of Columbia studios.

Inger has bounded back in Hollywood with a successful and secure leap. She's not the scared actress who left this town four years ago, when it looked like she might never return.

"Hollywood doesn't frighten me any more," she now smiles. "I better understand the people and the business and I no longer take either very seriously." She took it pretty seriously on that day four years ago when she turned down a role given her by Paramount and was placed on suspension.

GI Smoking Slated To Be Discouraged

WASHINGTON (AP) — The top doctors of the Army, Navy and Air Force have recommended steps aimed at discouraging smoking among the 2.7 million men and women in uniform, it was learned today.

There would be no attempt to prohibit cigarette smoking. The Associated Press was told, but the military surgeon general proposed:

1. An educational program intended to point out to all service people the potentially harmful effects of smoking.

2. An end to service participation in what one surgeon general called "promotional schemes." Under this heading, he included gifts of cigarettes to military hospitals.

The surgeons general met Wednesday with Dr. Shirley C. Fisk, the Defense Department's health director. They discussed the Public Health Service's recent report linking cigarette smoking with lung cancer and various other life-shortening diseases.

Following the suspension, she became a disappointed, disillusioned young girl. Her personal life also complicated her professional problems. So she left for Europe to try to find herself.

"I did all sorts of things," she reveals. "I spent time with Ingmar Bergman, Fellini and others. I gambled at Monte Carlo, swam in the Mediterranean, went to impressionist museums in Paris."

After thus "punishing" herself, she went back to work — in television, where her fine performances, such as "Price of Tomatoes," which won her an Emmy nomination, again brought her to top Hollywood recognition.

She won her TV series, and the feature, her first since "The World, The Flesh and the Devil," released in 1959. It was an offbeat film, like so many she had played. And in "The NEW Interns," Miss Stevens plays a social worker whose mind snaps after being sexually assaulted by three hoodlums.

"I guess I was signed for this," she laughed, "because I've acquired a reputation for playing troubled characters. If I played them with any degree of conviction, it's due to the fact I've had a problem or two during my own lifetime."

Inger is the product of a broken home (her parents were divorced when she was a youngster), a bitter marriage and a couple of unhappy romances. But she says she now has hope and confidence in the future.

Ruby Mental Test Schedule Still Secret

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — The time, place and extent of the psychiatric examination to be given Jack Ruby, slayer of accused presidential assassin Lee Harvey Oswald, remain a professional secret.

Dist. Judge Joe B. Brown named Dr. R. L. Stubblefield of the Southwestern Medical School in Dallas, Dr. John T. Holbrook of Beverly Hills Sanitarium and Clinic in Dallas, and Dr. Milton Towler of the University of Texas Medical School at Galveston as the three psychiatrists to examine the 32-year-old night club operator.

Judge Brown said it would be up to the three psychiatrists to conduct the tests and that he did not know specifically what the examination would include.

"I am under instructions from Judge Brown to make no announcement as to what the tests will include, where they will be given or when they will be given," Dr. Stubblefield said late Wednesday.

Earlier, Dr. Holbrook said he did not know when or where the tests would be held. Asked if they would be extensive, he said "I hope so."

Shortly after Judge Brown announced the Tuesday appointments, Dr. Towler said in Galveston he had agreed to examine Ruby "from a neurological standpoint."

Chamber To Hear Seed Co. Official

CHARLES B. MILLS

Charles B. Mills, chairman of the board of the O. M. Scott & Sons Seed Co. in Marysville, will be guest speaker at next Thursday's Annual Meeting of the Circleville Area Chamber of Commerce.

The session will be held at the Pickaway Fairgrounds 4-H and Grange Building. The program will open at 6:30 p. m. with the serving of punch and musical entertainment. Dinner will follow.

Mills, a participant in many state and national functions, is rated a renowned afterdinner speaker. His subject will be "Trifles."

The evening's agenda will include presentation of the Chamber's Program of Action for 1964. This will be a descriptive preview of programs planned for this year by various committees within the Chamber.

NEW Chamber president Dale F. DeLong will be officially introduced. He succeeds David L. Yates as top executive. In addition to his duties with the Scott firm, Mills is a graduate, trustee and past board chairman of Ohio Wesleyan University.

He serves as a director for the Ohio Chamber of Commerce, the First National Bank in Marysville, Lakeside Assn., American Seed Research Foundation and the National Council on Business Mail.

The seed company executive is chairman of the Central Ohio Heart Assn., Columbus Area Newcomen Society and Public Relations Commission of the Ohio Area Methodist Church.

Tickets for the meeting are available from directors of the Area Chamber.

Fruits of Appeasement

In Panama the United States is confronted by the disastrous consequences of long - continued appeasement. The whole disillusioning experience with attempted appeasement everywhere in the world should have been ample warning against any concession extracted by force. But in the last previous outbreak in Panama, in 1959, the State Department chickened out.

Attacks on the United States then were venomous. President Eisenhower was depicted in cartoons in Panamanian newspapers as a devil with pointed ears, cloven hooves, and horns protruding from his forehead. The U. S. Army was caricatured as a pack of dogs, attacking Panamanian children. The United States flag was desecrated.

United States citizens then in the Canal Zone objected to appeasement of the rioters on the grounds that the raising of the Panamanian flag in the Canal Zone would be nothing more than a prelude to endless new demands. The predicted eventual upshot would be demands for the complete ouster of the U. S. and operation of the canal by Panama.

The moral from Washington's surrender in 1959 was obvious. Anybody wanting something from Uncle Sam should make as much trouble as possible. Anybody wanting more should make more trouble. More trouble is what Uncle Sam is getting in Panama now.

The Panamanian government should be required to make full restitution for all United States property destroyed by the mobs. If this is done the Panamanian government may be less indulgent of its native hoodlums in the future.

Source of Malevolence

By John Chamberlain

When he raised the shadow of the Alger Hiss case in one of his recent stump speeches in New Hampshire, Governor Nelson Rockefeller exhibited great courage or possibly it was naivete. For the Hiss case has been an albatross to those who have touched it. Ask Richard Nixon, for instance.

What the New York Governor did, at least inferentially, was to accuse the U.S. government of falling down on its internal security job from 1945 to 1948. During that period Nelson Rockefeller served the Truman Administration in the State Department; it was as an Assistant Secretary of State that he went to San Francisco in 1945 to attend the conference which gave birth to the United Nations.

Pulling back the veil from his San Francisco experience, Governor Rockefeller told a New Hampshire audience that it was part of his job to meet each morning with the FBI to discuss security matters. "They came in one morning," so Rockefeller recalled, "and said, 'We have the goods on Alger Hiss.' He was then secretary general of the conference. This was in 1945, mind you. Long before anything else broke."

Nothing was done about Hiss at the time. As a matter of fact, the case had been smoldering ever since the beginning of World War II. It was during the period of the Nazi - Soviet Pact that Isaac Don Levine, a superior journalist, had taken Whittaker Chambers, an ex-Communist on the staff of Time magazine, to see Adolf Berle at the State Department in Washington. Chambers had warned Berle about Alger Hiss and other members of "Marxist study groups" who were employed by the U. S. Government in sensitive spots. Berle passed the information on upwards, but nothing came of it. So, when the FBI informed Nelson Rockefeller that the secretary general of the United Nations' natal conference was a suspected menace, it was passing along some pretty odd stuff. But it was not less potent for that.

Rockefeller's exhumation of the Hiss case might be considered as something that is neither here nor there, now that Alger Hiss has paid his penalty for perjury about his past. But Richard Nixon might have warned Rocky that to take the anti-Hiss side is apt to bring some subtle but nonetheless strong forces into play against a politician. Nixon has always felt that he both lived and died politically by his connection with Whittaker Chambers and Alger Hiss. He made his reputation when he pushed the investigation that forced the Hiss trials. But an impalpable malevolence has dogged Richard Nixon from that day to the present. As he made plain in his farewell speech to the press in California, he attributed it to Hiss case "fall-out."

With Nixon's career in mind, Rocky should know that there's no political pay dirt in virtually accusing the U. S. government of "sitting" on the Hiss case for some three years after 1945, to say nothing of the years between 1939 and the end of the war. But if it is courage that led Rocky to bring the matter up, then he deserves great credit for it.

This columnist has not been particularly in Rockefeller's corner. But when it comes to resisting euphoria whenever Khrushchev smiles, it should in all fairness be said that Rockefeller is by no means the least worthy of the Republican candidates for office. Said Rocky, to his New Hampshire partisans: "Don't let's kid ourselves. They (meaning the Communists) have not abandoned their concepts or goals." And Rocky went on to describe the Communists and fellow-travelers he encountered in South America and Washington as thoroughly dedicated men who "believe they are going to dominate the entire world."

Rocky is currently wooing the labor unions. No doubt he would very much like to have Walter Reuther on his side. But Walter Reuther, in a memo to Attorney General Robert Kennedy, has said the time has passed for indulging in Communist-hunting and Communist-baiting in the U. S., and that those who do it are nothing more than reactionaries. Other people have earned Reuther's enmity for doing no less and no more than Rockefeller has done in New Hampshire.

Better watch out, Rocky. They'll be smearing you as a "McCarthyite" yet.

FROM UPSTATE New York comes the tale of the motorist who was tooting merrily Westward on the Thruway. When he passed a sign reading "Twenty Miles to Buffalo," he was smiling happily. He was still in the pink when he flashed by the sign reading "Ten Miles to Buffalo." Only minutes later, however, he was discovered sitting dazed and battered, holding his head, at the roadside, his shiny new automobile a sorry wreck. "What happened?" demanded the first state trooper to arrive upon the scene. "I didn't heed that last sign," mourned the wounded motorist. "I covered the ten miles—and the damn buffalo rammed right into me."

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH...

By LESTER L. COLEMAN, M.D.

Attention is being focused on an encouraging new health survey that aims at the prevention of severe heart attacks by learning how to predict them.

Medical teams in Burbank, Calif., San Antonio, Tex., and San Francisco have been studying a vast group of patients in an effort to learn how to foresee the "heart attack candidate."

Dr. Ray Rosenman and Dr. Meyer Friedman of San Francisco began this study in 1960, with a group of collaborators. The program is scheduled to continue for at least five years in order to establish measurements by which future coronary attacks can be anticipated and prevented.

"Project Prediction" is studying the concentration of fat and cholesterol in the blood, the speed of blood-clotting and the psychological makeup of all the participants.

The evaluation of the 3,524 volunteers included almost every conceivable factor in their personal and family histories. Carefully planned probing was relentlessly carried on in this effort to predict "heart attacks after 50."

A tremendous amount of data is being fed into computer machines so that the results can be completely objective and independent of any preconceived ideas. The preliminary report already brings to light the important fact that a tendency to heart attacks is associated with stressful personality.

The scientists state "a personality pattern identified with a hard driving male having excessive ambition and a competitiveness, and one who constantly works and lives under deadline pressures" can be considered to be potentially "coronary-prone."

Dr. Menard Gertler of New York City has independently evolved a technique for assessing the possibility of a coronary candidate through actual numerical scoring.

In a recent book, Dr. Gertler carefully balances studies of a patient's height, weight, blood pressure, family history and blood. From this information he arrives at a statistical conclusion that may prevent many heart attacks by planned medical supervision.

All these scientific investigations are widely dispersed geographically, yet intimately related by their enormous contribution to the eventual prevention of heart attacks through planning.

Preventive medicine is the ultimate hope of all scientific endeavors. This important program holds great promise.

It has been established that the officers of a large industry are not necessarily greater risks for heart attacks than are the clerical workers and general personnel in the company.

Dr. Anthony D'Alonzo and Dr. Sidney Pell of Wilmington, Del., studied this problem and concluded that "stress cannot be measured only by the external circumstances with which a person must contend, but rather by his reactions to these circumstances."

Out of this concept evolves the realization that top management jobs may not necessarily be more stressful than those in lower levels.

14 Hours a Day at Piano

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) — A top concert pianist gets from $500 to $6,000 an appearance.

There are perhaps some 25 of these keyboard artists in the nation. One of the best is John Browning, 30, a slender and handsome bachelor, who started picking out tunes at the age of 3 and started taking lessons at 5.

He made his first debut at 10, but didn't become a professional in public until he had reached the ripe age of 20.

"Both my parents are musicians, and they didn't want to rush me too fast," Browning explained. "The child prodigy bit can be dangerous."

"The public sometimes gets tired of hearing him, and decides he doesn't sound so impressive after he grows up. Also, the artist himself can get bored if he starts too soon. By 50 he's tired of the business," he said.

Browning, who comes from Denver, Colo., and Los Angeles, became an international musical figure in 1956 when he won the gold medal award in Brussels. Since then he has performed with most of the great orchestras here and in Europe.

"It's a highly competitive field," he said. "This seems to be an age of pianists, and talent at present seems to come mostly from the United States and Russia, rather than Western Europe."

"Men outnumber women about 10-1. Women either get married or weary of a concert artist's life. It can be rough."

The chief ordeal is the constant travel.

"Another problem is the shortage of porters at rail terminals," he said. "If I have to carry my own luggage — it weighs about 60 pounds — it pulls my arm muscles the wrong way, and I'm afraid it could affect my performance."

Browning now solves this by wiring ahead for a messenger to meet him at the station.

Other woes of the concert artist's life: Poor acoustics, bad pianos, the social receptions that inevitably follow a concert, "and, above all, the constant need of keeping up your standard, to key yourself up to play your best no matter how you feel physically."

He spends anywhere from up to 14 hours a day at the piano, has committed to memory 30 concertos and more than 10 hours of solo music. This means he could play about 40 hours continuously without repeating a work.

Browning would seem a highly eligible Leap Year candidate for marriage, but says he is kept so busy that he hasn't yet been able to find the right girl.

The Business World

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—How the next federal budget will differ from the current one in its effect on business and consumers and taxpayers is shown in government spending and in expected collections.

The figures President Johnson has submitted for the fiscal year starting July 1 also reveal the actual cash receipts and payments, which run higher than the formal administrative budget given to Congress. Total cash receipts from the public are expected to rise and total cash payments to the public to remain steady, after some adjustments of transactions between government agencies.

The details of the changes are significant.

Increased spending is scheduled for education, for health, labor and welfare, and for space research and technology. And a big boost will be the $400 million more interest to be paid—$11.1 billion in all—on an expanding federal debt with rising interest costs.

Sectors of the economy scheduled to receive less federal outlays in the next fiscal year are mainly agriculture and industries involved in national defense. Veterans benefits and services and international affairs and finance also are expected to cost a bit less.

The government, on the other hand, is counting on collecting more in individual income taxes and corporate income taxes, despite the proposed cut in rates because incomes and earnings are expected to rise and also in excise taxes because consumers are expected to buy more of the things thus taxed.

Higher employment tax receipts and interest on trust investments are expected to swell government trust fund accounts.

In all, the government departments covered in the administrative budget and the various agencies not included, are expected to pay $122.7 billion in cash to the public, and to take in $119.7 billion from the public.

This $3-billion deficit will be about $2 billion under the one predicted in the formal administrative budget, which puts receipts at $93 billion and expenditures at $97.9 billion by omitting the independent agencies.

The cash outflow and inflow will have the closer relation to the economy as a whole.

The President stresses the budget's economic effect this way: "In setting the relationship between government expenditures and taxation, the budget is also a powerful economic force which can help or hamper our efforts to achieve stable prosperity and steady growth."

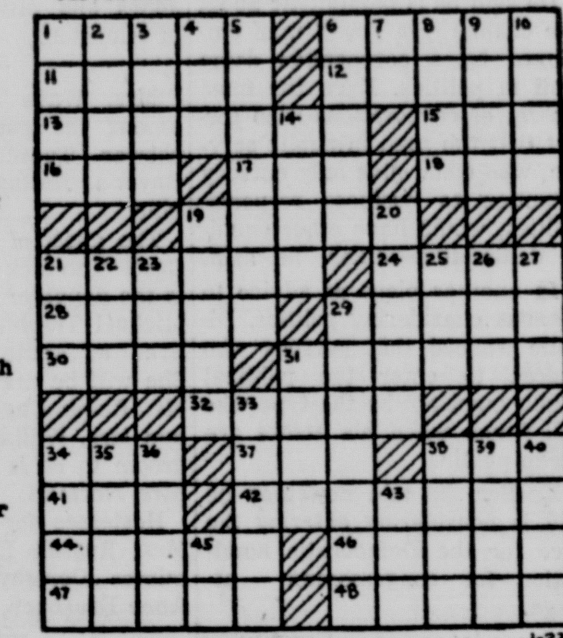

This economic force will be shaped by such things as a proposed $1.1-billion drop in military spending, and the hoped for

$1.2-billion decline in the cost of farm programs. The President's shifting emphasis also is seen in his request for $1.1 billion as a starter in his proposed war on poverty.

You're Telling Me!

Observers studying a huge school of hundreds of whales migrating southward along the California coast report seeing one headed in the opposite direction. That's not so strange—maybe the critter doesn't like crowds.

Meanwhile, Zadok Dumkopf reports he dashed right out and bought a set of earplugs when he learned National Guitar Week is to be celebrated beginning Jan. 17.

A group of Connorsville, Ind., high school students claim a world's record for playing the game of Monopoly for 336 non-stop hours. It certainly monopolized their attention.

Grandpappy Jenkins says he's just now getting used to turning on his TV set and finding something other than a football game on the screen.

Astronomers report that, at long last, Mars' orbit has been positively established by mathematicians. Good thing, too—imagine taking off in a space ship to visit our sister planet and not knowing in which direction to head!

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

FROM UPSTATE New York comes the tale of the motorist who was tooting merrily Westward on the Thruway. When he passed a sign reading "Twenty Miles to Buffalo,"

he was smiling happily. He was still in the pink when he flashed by the sign reading "Ten Miles to Buffalo." Only minutes later, however, he was discovered sitting dazed and battered, holding his head, at the roadside, his shiny new automobile a sorry wreck. "What happened?" demanded the first state trooper to arrive upon the scene. "I didn't heed that last sign," mourned the wounded motorist. "I covered the ten miles—and the damn buffalo rammed right into me."

There's a very homely girl in New Haven who always seeks seats directly behind the goal posts at football games. It's the only time, she explains, that she sees men running right at her.

The beautiful daughter of a Broadway columnist was wed recently. Included among the vast array of presents was a silver butter dish with a card that read, "For butter—or for worse."

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH...

By LESTER L. COLEMAN, M.D.

Attention is being focused on an encouraging new health survey that aims at the prevention of severe heart attacks by learning how to predict them.

Medical teams in Burbank, Calif., San Antonio, Tex., and San Francisco have been studying a vast group of patients in an effort to learn how to foresee the "heart attack candidate."

Dr. Ray Rosenman and Dr. Meyer Friedman of San Francisco began this study in 1960, with a group of collaborators. The program is scheduled to continue for at least five years in order to establish measurements by which future coronary attacks can be anticipated and prevented.

"Project Prediction" is studying the concentration of fat and cholesterol in the blood, the speed of blood-clotting and the psychological makeup of all the participants.

The evaluation of the 3,524 volunteers included almost every conceivable factor in their personal and family histories. Carefully planned probing was relentlessly carried on in this effort to predict "heart attacks after 50."

A tremendous amount of data is being fed into computer machines so that the results can be completely objective and independent of any preconceived ideas. The preliminary report already brings to light the important fact that a tendency to heart attacks is associated with stressful personality.

The scientists state "a personality pattern identified with a hard driving male having excessive ambition and a competitiveness, and one who constantly works and lives under deadline pressures" can be considered to be potentially "coronary-prone."

Dr. Menard Gertler of New York City has independently evolved a technique for assessing the possibility of a coronary candidate through actual numerical scoring.

In a recent book, Dr. Gertler carefully balances studies of a patient's height, weight, blood pressure, family history and blood. From this information he arrives at a statistical conclusion that may prevent many heart attacks by planned medical supervision.

All these scientific investigations are widely dispersed geographically, yet intimately related by their enormous contribution to the eventual prevention of heart attacks through planning.

Preventive medicine is the ultimate hope of all scientific endeavors. This important program holds great promise.

It has been established that the officers of a large industry are not necessarily greater risks for heart attacks than are the clerical workers and general personnel in the company.

Dr. Anthony D'Alonzo and Dr. Sidney Pell of Wilmington, Del., studied this problem and concluded that "stress cannot be measured only by the external circumstances with which a person must contend, but rather by his reactions to these circumstances."

Out of this concept evolves the realization that top management jobs may not necessarily be more stressful than those in lower levels.

USE THE CLASSIFIEDS

14 Hours a Day at Piano

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) — A top concert pianist gets from $500 to $6,000 an appearance.

There are perhaps some 25 of these keyboard artists in the nation. One of the best is John Browning, 30, a slender and handsome bachelor, who started picking out tunes at the age of 3 and started taking lessons at 5.

He made his first debut at 10, but didn't become a professional in public until he had reached the ripe age of 20.

"Both my parents are musicians, and they didn't want to rush me too fast," Browning explained. "The child prodigy bit can be dangerous."

"The public sometimes gets tired of hearing him, and decides he doesn't sound so impressive after he grows up. Also, the artist himself can get bored if he starts too soon. By 50 he's tired of the business," he said.

Browning, who comes from Denver, Colo., and Los Angeles, became an international musical figure in 1956 when he won the gold medal award in Brussels. Since then he has performed with most of the great orchestras here and in Europe. "It's a highly competitive field," he said. "This seems to be an age of pianists, and talent at present seems to come mostly from the United States and Russia, rather than Western Europe."

"Men outnumber women about 10-1. Women either get married or weary of a concert artist's life. It can be rough."

The chief ordeal is the constant travel. "Another problem is the shortage of porters at rail terminals," he said. "If I have to carry my own luggage — it weighs about 60 pounds — it pulls my arm muscles the wrong way, and I'm afraid it could affect my performance." Browning now solves this by wiring ahead for a messenger to meet him at the station.

Other woes of the concert artist's life: Poor acoustics, bad pianos, the social receptions that inevitably follow a concert, "and, above all, the constant need of keeping up your standard, to key yourself up to play your best no matter how you feel physically."

He spends anywhere from up to 14 hours a day at the piano, has committed to memory 30 concertos and more than 10 hours of solo music. This means he could play about 40 hours continuously without repeating a work.

Browning would seem a high-eligible Leap Year candidate for marriage, but says he is too busy that he hasn't yet been able to find the right girl.

The Business World

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—How the next federal budget will differ from the current one in its effect on business and consumers and taxpayers is shown in government spending and in expected collections.

The figures President Johnson has submitted for the fiscal year starting July 1 also reveal the actual cash receipts and payments, which run higher than the formal administrative budget given to Congress. Total cash receipts from the public are expected to rise and total cash payments to the public to remain steady, after some adjustments of transactions between government agencies.

The details of the changes are significant. Increased spending is scheduled for education, for health, labor and welfare, and for space research and technology. And a big boost will be the $400 million more interest to be paid—$11.1 billion in all—on an expanding federal debt with rising interest costs.

Sectors of the economy scheduled to receive less federal outlays in the next fiscal year are mainly agriculture and industries involved in national defense. Veterans benefits and services and international affairs and finance also are expected to cost a bit less.

The government, on the other hand, is counting on collecting more in individual income taxes and corporation income taxes, despite the proposed cut in rates because incomes and earnings are expected to rise, and also in excise taxes because consumers are expected to buy more of the things thus taxed.

Higher employment tax receipts and interest on trust investments are expected to swell government trust fund accounts.

In all, the government departments covered in the administrative budget and the various agencies not included, are expected to pay $122.7 billion in cash to the public, and to take in $119.7 billion from the public.

This $3-billion deficit will be about $2 billion under the one predicted in the formal administrative budget, which puts receipts at $93 billion and expenditures at $97.9 billion by omitting the independent agencies.

The cash outflow and inflow will have the closer relation to the economy as a whole. The President stresses the budget's economic effect this way: "In setting the relationship between government expenditures and taxation, the budget is also a powerful economic force which can help or hamper our efforts to achieve stable prosperity and steady growth."

This economic force will be shaped by such things as a proposed $1.1-billion drop in military spending, and the hoped for

$1.2-billion decline in the cost of farm programs. The President's shifting emphasis also is seen in his request for $1.1 billion as a starter in his proposed war on poverty.

Looking Back in Pickaway County

FIVE YEARS AGO

Mr. and Mrs. Phil E. Smith, 121 E. Union St., left for several weeks vacation on the West Coast.

Paul Chester, Williamsport, was named chairman of the Williamsport Board of Public Affairs.

H. E. Louis, New Holland, was re-elected president of the First National Bank, New Holland.

TEN YEARS AGO

The Chapel Choir of Capital University was scheduled to present a concert at Circleville High School.

The local VFW Club sponsored a benefit basketball game at the Coliseum, with proceeds slated to go to the polio fund.

The Pickaway County Farmer and Sportsman Assn. announced plans to sponsor a U.S. hunter safety course.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Culp, N. Court St. returned from a trip to California.

Miss Bernice Liston, student at OSU, spent the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Liston, Circleville Twp.

About 50 guests were present when members of Kiwanis Club observed "Ladies' night at Hamley's Tearoom."

The thrill of her first corsage

Wonderful things happen when you take a teenage girl and dress her in an evening gown topped with flowers. As if by magic she sees a new girl smiling at her from the mirror. This miracle miss is ready for her school dance—for a gay and exciting evening. She'll greet her date with a radiance that says "My flowers are simply beautiful." For today, as always when you want to add the perfect touch for that special date—

Nation's Great Papers Guarded

WASHINGTON (AP)—The National Archives Building, where rest the records of a nation 187 years old, has tighter security regulations since a recent theft. But authorities have no fear of anyone stealing the Declaration of Independence or other great documents.

"We feel there's absolutely no possibility of anyone making off with the real national treasures," Dr. Robert H. Bahmer, deputy archivist of the United States, said in an interview.

Despite elaborate safeguards, presidential letters and other documents valued at $500,000 were stolen from the research area.

The three great charters of freedom of the United States are enshrined in the exhibition hall of the Archives Building.

These are the Declaration of Independence, the Constitution of the United States and the Bill of Rights.

Fair Housing Ordinance Ruled Legal

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—A fair housing ordinance in Oberlin, was declared constitutional Wednesday by the Ninth District Court of Appeals because its enforcement "would not be an unreasonable, arbitrary and an oppressive exercise of police power."

The opinion, written by Judge Arthur W. Doyle, reversed a decision by Lorain Common Pleas Court Judge John D. Pincura, who had issued an injunction against the ordinance on the grounds of unconstitutionality.

The ordinance was a broad one, banning discrimination for race, creed or color in practically every phase of real estate operations in Oberlin. It was challenged by I. L. Porter of Oberlin.

Because this opinion is partly in conflict with a recent one by a special panel of Ohio district court of appeals judges in Toledo, it automatically will go to the Ohio Supreme Court for review. A two-year-old Toledo open-occupancy housing ordinance, which was never enforced, was declared unconstitutional because it was "too loosely written and therefore unenforceable."

Judge Doyle noted in the opinion that 85 to 90 per cent of the negroes in Oberlin now live in one section of town and approximately half of the real estate listings for rental or sale contain owner-imposed race restrictions.

The majority of the 14,520,000 South Vietnamese lives in rural villages.

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson, like his predecessors, has to juggle the usual and the unexpected, which is all right except when the unexpected hits him, as it did Johnson. But even the usual can look brand new, unless you have a lively memory. For instance, when a president trots his budget message into the congressional stadium.

It's like an Army-Navy game—cheers and jeers—except that Democrat and Republicans don't don blue or gray. They just stay dressed in their old party attitudes, as they did this week when Johnson sent them his budget.

Most Democrats found it delightful, Republicans looked for holes in the budgetary line. It's like that when a Democrat is president. It's like that when a Republican is president. But then Democrats and Republicans swap sides.

Since this has been going on for years, and Johnson was in Congress 23 years, he could hardly have been dumbfounded by the reaction and may even have been happy the Republicans didn't say more.

There will be much of the same as he continues to send Congress messages.

The real domestic fight, therefore, will get worse and, since 1964 is an election year, it should get noisier.

President John F. Kennedy went through the same routine in his first year in office, and the years that followed. It's not the domestic stuff that makes an old man of a president, it's the foreign stuff.

That's where a president gets clouded with the unexpected but Kennedy got a better break than Johnson, starting out.

Kennedy's first big foreign trouble was when he backed the disastrous rebel invasion of Cuba—but he had already been in office three months before that happened.

But here was Johnson, in office less than two months, up to his nose in getting his messages together for Congress, when the Panamanians blew their lid.

Johnson had already tried to overhaul the American machinery for dealing with Latin America when the riots in Panama

69 Ohio Patrolmen Slated for Promotion

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Highway Patrol will promote 69 patrolmen to corporal Friday as part of a program for additional supervisors. Originally, the promotions had not been scheduled until March 1, at least.

The promotion ceremony will be held at 9:30 a. m. at the Department of Highway Safety.

The promotions will bring an immediate $20 a month pay raise and another $20 a month July 1, bringing the new corporals' salaries to $500 a month.

began. It was an unhappy beginning.

Just about the time he got the Panamanians cooled off a bit, French President Charles de Gaulle let it be known that France was going to recognize Red China, which the White House promptly told him it hoped he wouldn't.

De Gaulle appears to have a compulsion to disturb the peace of American presidents.

He was a repeated problem to Kennedy. Since he doesn't seem to be a man to play favorites, he started on Johnson in a hurry.

al, he had a long talk with Johnson. But even this got messed up for out of it came the first mixup with the Frenchman.

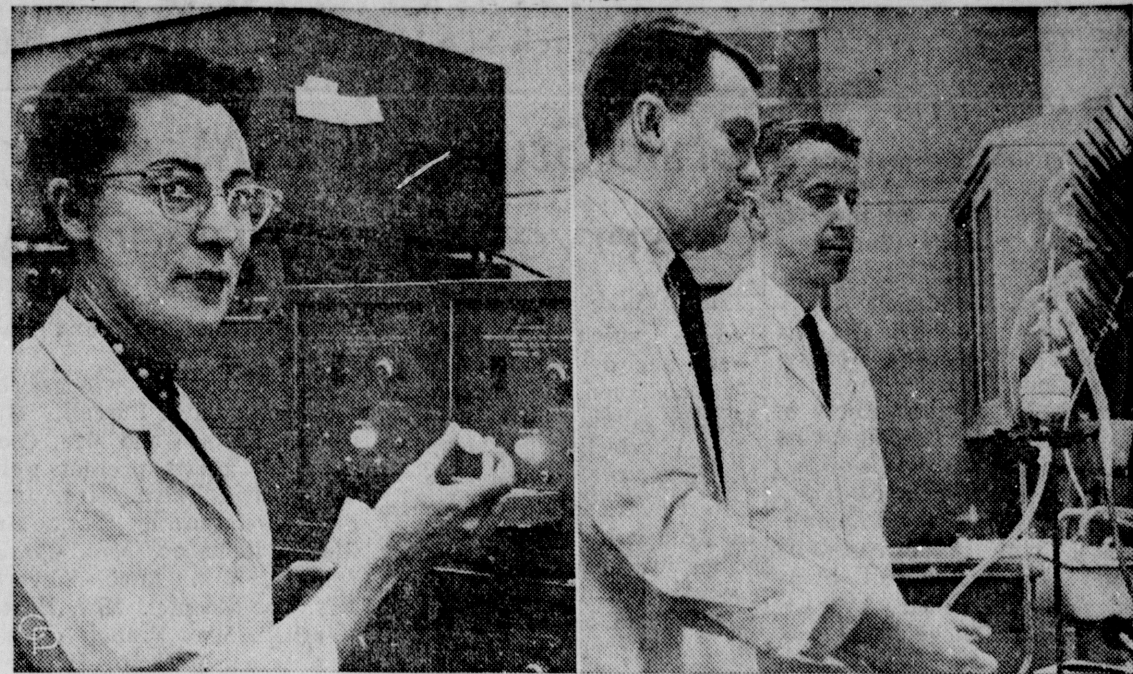

Maybe Johnson was hard of hearing. Or maybe De Gaulle was. But the result was confusion.

Had Johnson understood De Gaulle to say he would come back for another visit? Or had the Frenchman understood Johnson to say he would go to France to see De Gaulle? The question is still unanswered.

French recognition of Red China isn't just a careless caper. What damage it may do to this country's position in Southeast Asia, and elsewhere, could well haunt Johnson for the rest of his presidency.

This is just the beginning of Johnson's foreign dilemmas. He is used to dealing with members of Congress but not with making America's foreign policy decisions.

And, besides, who ever got used to dealing with De Gaulle?

Monday Club Members Meet, View Films

The musical compositions of Beethoven and Mozart were used as the theme for the evening when Monday Club met this week.

Two films were shown entitled, "Beethoven and His Works" and "Mozart's Wonderland Color Films." The narration explained the effects of their times and environment on the music of the two composers. Some of their more familiar numbers, played by renowned Symphony Orchestras, furnished the musical backgrounds for the films.

Miss Susan Reichelderfer was guest pianist for the evening. For her solos Miss Reichelderfer chose the following: "Six Variations on an Original Theme" by Beethoven; "Eighteenth Variation" (Rhapsody on a Theme of Paganini) by Rachmaninoff; "Ave Maria" by Liszt.

A third film of Brice Canyon, Utah, with background music by Bach, was also included.

Mrs. David Fullen, presided during the business meeting. Mrs. Robert Young, Miss Alice Ada May and Mrs. Tom Renick were named to the nominating committee.

Mrs. Fullen announced that the movie, "Lilies of the Field", highly recommended by the Ohio Federation of Women's Clubs, is now playing in Columbus.

Child Study Club Members Observe 20th Anniversary

The Child Study Patron League which originated 20 years ago as the Child Study Club observed the anniversary Monday evening in the home of Mrs. Charles Kirkpatrick, 703 N. Pickaway St.

To commemorate the occasion former members were invited guests. Also highlighting the evening was the guest speaker Mrs. Donald Myers of Grove City, state president of the Ohio Child Conservation League.

Mrs. Howard Parker, president, welcomed the guests and presided during the short business meeting. Mrs. William Cook, program chairman, introduced Mrs. Myers, who spoke on "What Teenagers Expect of Parents."

Following the program the evening was spent visiting with old friends. Refreshments were served. Mrs. Eleanor Gerhardt, first president, presided at the coffee service. The table was beautifully decorated with a centerpiece of pink and white mums.

Mrs. Kirkpatrick was assisted by Mrs. Carl Purcell, Mrs. George Lawson and Mrs. Cook. Among guests present were, Mrs. Edrie Baird, Mrs. Irene Bell, Mrs. Dorothy Clark, Mrs. Gladys Robinson, Mrs. Charles Walters, Mrs. Anne Sieverts, Mrs. Joe Rooney, Mrs. Harold Marshall, Mrs. Francis Cook, Mrs. Arthur McCoard, Mrs. Vernon Weiler, Mrs. Willson Leist and Mrs. Melvin Thompson, all of Circleville; Mrs. John Heiskell, Proctorville; Mrs. Geneva Best, Columbus; Mrs. Mary Jane Norris, Grove City.

Dear Abby: by Abigail Van Buren

Just Use Courtesy

DEAR ABBY: We need your help in settling an argument. What is the proper way to get a waiter's attention? Is it all right to strike your glass with a knife? How about snapping your fingers? Also, is it bad manners to whistle a short and not too loud whistle?

DON and DORA
DEAR D. and D.: Striking one's glass would startle and annoy everyone in the restaurant, including the waiter. Snapping the fingers is for the dogs, and whistling is for the birds. Simply say, "Waiter, please."

DEAR ABBY: How does a 21-year-old girl tell her own father she doesn't want him at her wedding? I want my mother there (she is a saint), but my father makes a fool of him-

Just as make-up conceals beauty flaws and suitable fashion camouflage figure faults,

New Blouse Designs Are Varied

By ELEANOR ROSS

Shirts to wear with skirts or pants are prominent in the new season's blouse offerings. It's not that shirts are so frou-frou that they can't be worn comfortably with casual skirts and slacks, but even basic man-tailored designs have come a long way from their uncompromising, plain-Jane beginnings.

Oxford styles, for example, have longer collar points and the collars have more roll. Also, look for the lovely finish of double-needle tailoring, roll-up sleeves, zipper closings and fresh neckline interest in Macmullen, V-line and Bermuda collars.

These shirts are so washable that you can keep their neat stripes or solid shades as clear and bright as new.

The "in" colors include pimiento, olive, vicuna, teal and vanilla, in addition to the perennial white. As for the dressier shirts, they couldn't be prettier — and these, too are washable.

Many dress shirts feature a combination of fabric and style — such as the paisley cardigan where the cut joins the print to create a distinctive pattern effect.

The feminine look is also accented by soft, drapable tunics; by amply gathered yokes and smocking; by softer, fuller sleeves; ascots; bigger rounded collars and by touches of quilting or embroidery.

While we're surveying what's what in feminine shirts, it might be well to remember that while we women have made such good news of the mantailored shirt, it is easy to forget who owned that shirt in all lengths in the first place.

So it is interesting to note that the menfolk are taking it back — in the form of knee-length cotton or orlon lounge shirts which can also double as sleepwear.

With its wide-ribbed turtle neckline, this shirt has raglan sleeves and wide vents — and looks as masculine as a shirt is intended to be. It will be interesting to see how the men take to it.

In some styles, the ribbed knit trim at the neckline fits close to the base of the neck and omits the turtle roll.

Colors, including bottle green, are as sophisticated as the designing. We women will no doubt copy this lounge shirt, too, before the men get accustomed to it.

It is a great washing-machine item, and that is one factor that appeals to the little woman right off the bat!

ions camouflage figure faults, so, too, can jewelry be used to eliminate the negatives or to accentuate the positives of appearance.

That's the opinion of a designing woman, Sarah Coventry, who suggests you put glittering jewelry to glamorizing uses.

Here's how:

Facial Shape: Use jewelry to change the shape of your face.

Drop earrings will soften an angular jaw, broadening the chin line and making the face appear fuller.

Button earrings can shorten a long face.

If the chin is square, a low bib necklace can round off its line.

Problem Neck: A short neck is lengthened by a long necklace or by a pin worn at the lowest point of the V-neckline.

Multi-strands of beads help shorten the long neck. So does a bold pin placed high and to the side of the neckline.

Accentuate a tiny waist by circling it with a beaded or gold rope, loosely draped as a belt. Or wear a pin off center on the belt of your dress.

Detract from over-sized hips by using a long, slender pin at the shoulder line. Wear it angled toward the center.

Highlight Assets: Use the glitter of jewelry to play up good features and bad ones won't be so apparent.

If hair is a crowning glory, wear a pin either in the hairdo itself or tacked to ribbons or headbands. Placed front and center in the hair, a sparkling pin accents pretty eyes.

To highlight back beauty in an evening dress wear a pin on the back shoulder line or tack it to the lowest point of a gown's scooped-out back.

Costume jewelry is one of a woman's most valuable beauty aids, says Sarah Coventry, so use it to sparkling advantage.

If you have more money than time, you may find it helpful to buy cheddar cheese already grated.

DRAMATIC ACCENT — The deep plunge that a cocktail dress takes at back is effectively emphasized by a glittering floral pin.

Dear Abby: by Abigail Van Buren

Just Use Courtesy

DEAR ABBY: We need your help in settling an argument. What is the proper way to get a waiter's attention? Is it all right to strike your glass with a knife? How about snapping your fingers? Also, is it bad manners to whistle a short and not too loud whistle?

DON and DORA

self every time he gets near liquor and I know what would happen if he were at my wedding. I want a church wedding with all my friends and relatives, and my oldest brother could walk me down the aisle. I know I sound selfish, Abby, but I also know that I will not be deprived of the kind of wedding I want because of my father. And I can't take the chance of having him get roaring drunk and ruining everything. What would you do?

IMPASSE
DEAR IMPASSE: I would tell my father candidly of my doubts and fears, and then, if he promised to stay sober on that day, I would let him walk me down the aisle. If we let people know we expect the best—they rarely disappoint us. Big brother can be waiting in the wings if Dad lets you down. But I'd bet on Dad this time.

The feminine look is also accentuated by soft, drapable tunics; by amply gathered yokes and smocking; by softer, fuller sleeves; ascots; bigger rounded collars and by touches of quilting or embroidery.

While we're surveying what's what in feminine shirts, it might be well to remember that while we women have made such good news of the mantillared shirt, it is easy to forget who owned that shirt in all lengths in the first place.

So it is interesting to note that the menfolk are taking it back—in the form of knee-length cotton or orlon lounge shirts which can also double as sleepwear.

With its wide-ribbed turtle neckline, this shirt has raglan sleeves and wide vents—and looks as masculine as a shirt is intended to be. It will be interesting to see how the men take to it.

In some styles, the ribbed knit trim at the neckline fits close to the base of the neck and omits the turtle roll.

Colors, including bottle green, are as sophisticated as the designing. We women will no doubt copy this lounge shirt, too, before the men get accustomed to it.

It is a great washing-machine item, and that is one factor that appeals to the little woman right off the bat!

ions camouflage figure faults, so, too, can jewelry be used to eliminate the negatives or to accentuate the positives of appearance.

That's the opinion of a designing woman, Sarah Coventry, who suggests you put glittering jewelry to glamorizing uses.

Here's how:
Facial Shape: Use jewelry to change the shape of your face.

Drop earrings will soften an angular jaw, broadening the chin line and making the face appear fuller.

Button earrings can shorten a long face.

If the chin is square, a low bib necklace can round off its line.

Problem Neck: A short neck is lengthened by a long necklace or by a pin worn at the lowest point of the V-neckline.

Multi-strands of beads help shorten the long neck. So does a bold pin placed high and to the side of the neckline.

Accentuate a tiny waist by circling it with a beaded or gold rope, loosely draped as a belt. Or wear a pin off center on the belt of your dress.

Detract from over-sized hips by using a long, slender pin at the shoulder line. Wear it angled toward the center.

Highlight Assets: Use the glitter of jewelry to play up good features and bad ones won't be so apparent.

If hair is a crowning glory, wear a pin either in the hairdo itself or tacked to ribbons or headbands. Placed front and center in the hair, a sparkling pin accents pretty eyes.

To highlight back beauty in an evening dress wear a pin on the back shoulder line or tack it to the lowest point of a gown's scooped-out back.

Costume jewelry is one of a woman's most valuable beauty aids, says Sarah Coventry, so use it to sparkling advantage.

If you have more money than time, you may find it helpful to buy cheddar cheese already grated.

DRAMATIC ACCENT — The deep plunge that a cocktail dress takes at back is effectively emphasized by a glittering floral pin.

Porter Given Favorite Son Tag by Dems

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The selection of Albert S. Porter as the "favorite son" to head Ohio's delegation to the Democratic National Convention will unite the party, State Democratic Chairman William L. Coleman says.

Porter, the Cuyahoga County chairman, was chosen Wednesday along with Mrs. Ermine Croskey, Carroll County chairman, as second choice under Ohio law requiring two selections.

They will head Ohio's 99-vote delegation to the convention pledged to President Johnson.

Coleman termed them "harmony choices" to unite party leaders split by 42-year-old Lt. Col. John Glenn's bid to unseat U. S. Sen. Stephen M. Young. Young is a 74-year-old veteran of some 50 years in Democratic service.

The split led to a noisy adjournment of the party's first pre-primary convention here Monday without endorsement of candidates in the May 5 primary election.

"There is more harmony and enthusiasm in the party now than in years," Coleman said. "The convention is just what the party needed. There will be no opposition slate of delegates."

The State Committee originally planned to pledge delegates directly to Johnson as their first choice for president with Young as second choice.

But Johnson declined "at this time" to give his written consent, as required by Ohio law, Coleman said. That left the chairman with the task of finding an acceptable stand-in.

Coleman said he was advised by Young in a telegram that the senator did not want to be either first or second choice of the delegation in Atlantic City Aug. 24. He suggested Porter.

Coleman said Young also made it clear that he did not want 18th District Congressman Wayne L. Hays, an active Glenn supporter, as one of the "favorite son" choices.

However, Mrs. Croskey of Carrollton, one of two women heading county committees, resides in Hays' eight-county district in Eastern Ohio.

Porter, Cuyahoga County's highway engineer, also is active in the new Ohio Democratic County Chairmen's Organization that sought endorsement of Young at the convention.

He was "favorite son" of the Ray T. Miller Sr. Faction in the 1960 convention. Miller, then Cuyahoga County chairman, had seven of the 1960 delegates. The rest of the Ohio delegation was pledged to then Gov. Michael V. DiSalle as "favorite son" stand-in for the late President John F. Kennedy.

Young suggested Robert E. Sweeney of Cleveland as Ohio's second choice for "favorite son." But Sweeney, a candidate for congressman-at-large, was passed in favor of Mrs. Croskey for harmony reasons and to enhance the appeal for feminine voters, it was explained.

Dr. Robert B. Voas, who resigned as space program psychiatrist to aid the Glenn campaign in Ohio, approved the selection of Porter.

"We are pleased with the selection," he said. "Col. Glenn's only concern was that the party decide on a favorite son who would unify Democrats. John did not enter in the selection."

Meanwhile, in Washington, it was reported that Glenn has applied for retirement effective March 1.

A Marine Corps spokesman said Glenn has served nearly 22 years in the Marines and on retirement will be entitled to payments of more than $425 a month.

Dog-Gonest of Civil Wars: British Vets vs Breeders

By JOSEPH WHITT
Central Press Association
Correspondent

LONDON —When an Englishman "bites" an English dog — that's news.

"The British dog's reputation has suffered considerably," John Hodgman, veterinarian to the famous Kennel Club, declared. "Unscrupulous breeders and indiscriminate inbreeding have produced the 'pop' dog, man-made monsters.

"Among the signs of degeneration are a general decrease in vitality, as can be seen in some Alsatians, and an increased nervousness, as with cocker spaniels and toy and miniature poodles.

"I want our veterinarians to take a stand."

Hodgman's colleagues — members of the British Veterinary Association — took a stand. They voted unanimously for a motion deploring the monster dogs.

They also charged that bulldogs can hardly breathe. That Pekes are nearly blind. That poodles are just bundles of yapping nerves with hair on. And that dachshunds are like duck-billed platypi.

Hodgman did not reckon with his opponents. The breeders struck back to a woman. Breeding is a woman's world.

Mrs. Zelia Lewis, whose husband heads the oldest canine society in the world, the Bulldog Club, said:

"Bulldogs that can hardly breathe? Nonsense! They were bred to bait bulls. Their nose allowed them to hang on to the bull and breathe well, no matter how much they were swung around.

"Everything in that so-called abnormal head is there for a purpose. Vets see only sick and abnormal dogs. So they cry woe on the whole breed."

Snapped Mrs. Dorothy Brauer, founder of the London Toy Poodle Club, "A yapping bundle of what? O, really! A poodle takes on the color of its environment. Sell one to a neurotic woman and you'll have a neurotic dog. If your poodle is bad-tempered, have you checked on your temper lately?"

Barked the president of the British Spaniel Club, "All this foolish talk about nervous spaniels. A temperamental dog is like a delinquent child, someone of strong character who has got into wrong hands.

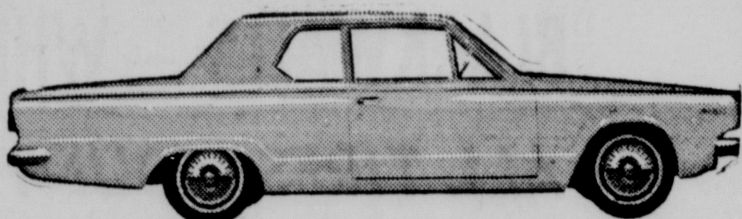

"There are some people I wouldn't sell my dogs to. The whole business is like sound marriage. A man should buy a dog as he chooses a wife. Meet the dam and sire. See if the rest of the family are responsible and kindly. Never buy a dog blind."

Answered Hodgman, "Many breeders latch on to a fashion in dogs for the sake of easy money. Selling puppies like groceries. Englishmen love dogs. But they must learn to respect their breeding."

Snarled a breeder of Pekes, "If vets had their way, they'd reduce us to a standard dog. Standard dog, indeed! Not while English dog-lovers have a growl left in them."

Fresh produce supplies have felt the impact of recent storms but housewives still will find a wide selection at the nation's supermarkets this weekend.

Iceberg lettuce is in shorter supply and prices tend to be a little higher for green beans, cabbage, sweet corn and squash in many areas because of cold weather.

Fresh vegetables that continue in generous supply include brussels sprouts, carrots, celery, onions, potatoes, sweet potatoes, tomatoes and turnips.

Meat prices, meanwhile, have shown signs of rising. However, retail prices so far are still generally lower than a year ago.

Beef attractions this weekend include ground beef, chuck, rib and rump roasts, and chuck, round and sirloin steaks. Ribs of beef are off a couple cents a pound at wholesale on the West Coast. Roasts are the chief Southeastern feature.

Pork attractions include ham, loin and butt roasts, sausage and bacon. Some stores are also featuring lamb.

Turkeys are being promoted more frequently. One chain features them at 39 cents a pound in northeastern stores. Coffee prices have risen at wholesale and shoppers may find rises for both ground and instant varieties in the weeks ahead.

31 DEATHS—Max Feinberg, variety store operator, is herded to a paddy wagon in Philadelphia, held without bail in the deaths of 31 skid row derelicts, one a woman. He is accused of selling canned heat to them, knowing they intended to drink it.

INTERESTED SPECTATORS—Jack Ruby's sister, Mrs. Eva Grant, and brother, Sam Ruby, sit in the courtroom awaiting opening of Jack Ruby's bond hearing in Dallas, Tex., where he has been held in jail without bond since he shot and killed Lee Harvey Oswald, accused assassin of President Kennedy.

Clevelanders Eyes U.S. Senate Seat

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Albert T. Ball of Cleveland, has taken out petitions from the secretary of state's office, apparently to try for the Democratic nomination for U. S. senator in the May primary.

If he files the petitions and they are certified he would face incumbent Sen. Stephen M. Young and John H. Glenn Jr. for the nomination in the May primary.

Ball was an unsuccessful candidate for the Democratic nomination for senator in 1962, and tried for a state senator nomination in 1959. In 1958 he was also unsuccessful in trying for nomination for lieutenant governor.

Clevelanders Eyes U.S. Senate Seat

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Albert T. Ball of Cleveland, has taken out petitions from the secretary of state's office, apparently to try for the Democratic nomination for U. S. senator in the May primary.

If he files the petitions and they are certified he would face incumbent Sen. Stephen M. Young and John H. Glenn Jr. for the nomination in the May primary.

Though Eskimos are born and reared near the water, they seldom learn to swim. The water is too cold.

Visitors Prefer To Drive To Southernmost U.S. City

By MARY ZOOK
Central Press Association
Correspondent

KEY WEST, the United States most southernmost city and its only tropical city, basks in the bright sunshine at the southernmost tip of Florida. It is the last of a necklace of islands, or keys that circle out from the mainland, and is 56 miles from Miami.

Key West cannot be reached overland except by driving or riding a bus over the two-lane highway built on a series of islands, connected by seven concrete bridges, one of which is seven miles long.

This over seas, toll free highway is a real engineering achievement, since it formerly was a train bridge, wide enough for a single track. The road was split in two, lengthwise, and widened into a two-lane highway completed in 1943. Most visitors prefer to drive down one day, and return the next, or even several days later, as the trip is too tiring for one day.

Maps are available that give the names of the keys and other interesting information. One of the highlights of the trip is the beautiful, emerald green water that shades into a soft, deep blue, as it flows along both sides of the bridges.

Key Largo, scene of an exciting movie some years ago, is the first island in the chain. Others follow to Key West.

It is a small, Spanish type town, laced with narrow streets. One hears Spanish spoken everywhere, and most of the radio programs are in Spanish. The name of the island, Key West, is an English form of "Cayo Nuevo" (Island of Bones). In 1882, the island was sold by a Spanish lieutenant for $2,000. It became a base for pirates until Commodore Porter of the United States Navy was sent to clean them out.

Because it is a tropical city, there are rare trees there, such as the tamarind and poinciana, and unusual shrubs, such as the giant cacti.

The southernmost house in the United States is on this island, and so is the Maine Memorial — the turret of the battleship Maine, sunk in Havana Harbor in 1898 at the beginning of the Spanish-American War. There also is a delicious dessert to be enjoyed there, called Key-Lime Pie. It tastes wonderful on a warm evening.

One of the unique features of the island is the turtle crawls. Here are kept huge, green turtles weighing 300 to 350 pounds, which are caught as far as 750 miles out at sea. When the turtles are brought to Key West, they are sold to a local agent, who keeps them in crawls, or tanks, according to their ages.

The green turtle's weight increases with age, as does his toughness. One tank contains the tender specimens, a second the medium ones, and the third one holds the tough, old fellows that usually wind up as green turtle soup. An old turtle swimming about with half a fin missing, probably was the victim of a barracuda, who nipped him.

The tender turtles are sold to be used as steaks or chops.

Turtles live to be 300 years old. They are strict vegetarians and can live 65 days without food. Since they never are kept this long, they are not fed while in the crawls. The fishermen who go out after turtles often are gone a week or two; after a week in port, they take to the sea again.

It Didn't Get Away

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP) — An eight-year-old boy, Robert Johns, had beginner's luck when he went out to fish with a new pole and a rubber worm. He landed a five-pound bass with some help from his friend, Steve Calkins. The unexpected strength of the fish almost pulled in the 4-foot-3-inch fisherman.

All-Season Resort Hailed

Private Interests
Plan Development

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Department of Natural Resources announced today development of the state's first all-season, all-sports resort adjacent to Mohican State Forest in Ashland County.

Fred E. Morr, natural resources director, said the development is under way on scenic Mohican Mountain and that the lodge planned there will offer 60 rooms for overnight guests.

"What pleases me most," Morr said, "is the complete versatility of the development. It offers a complete selection of recreational activities for spring, summer, fall and winter."

Mohican State Forest is off Ohio 97 near Perrysville.

He said Chiefs, Inc., under direction of Buck Wertz, president, and Karl Sturtz, vice president, is the private firm developing the resort. The plan, Morr said, is in line with "the avowed administration policy of working closely with private enterprise to beef up Ohio's tourist attraction potential and to capture a larger share of the nation's tourist dollars."

"It also represents a part of the state's economic development drive," he said. "The facility will not only create new jobs itself but represents the kind of a recreational area which industry places high on its site-selection list."

Planned for the project in addition to a rustic lodge and restaurant will be facilities for golfing, hiking, horseback riding, archery, swimming, canoeing, tennis, fishing, skiing, water skiing, skeet and trap shooting, rifle and pistol ranges, ice skating, badminton, shuffleboard, tobogganing, snow shoeing, sleigh riding, hay rides and horseshoes.

It is expected that the lodge will open for the fall season of 1964, Morr said.

Women's Unit Seeks Charter Memberships

Mrs. Donald B. Leith, Pleasantville, was elected president of the Buckeye Cowbelles organized recently during the annual meeting of the Ohio Cattle Feeders Assn. at the Southern Hotel, Columbus.

Pickaway County women interested in joining the organization are asked to contact Mrs. Hewitt Cromley, Route 2, Ashville. Members must be wives of Ohio Cattle Feeders Assn. members.

Fifty charter members were signed up at the organizational meeting. It was announced that the Buckeye Cowbelles charter would remain open for the remainder of the year for new members.

Other officers of the group are Mrs. Joe Beam, Port William; Mrs. Tom Swisher, West Liberty; and Mrs. Donald Collins, Leesburg; all vice presidents; and Mrs. Franklin C. Smith was chosen secretary-treasurer.

Mrs. Leith was also elected as one of two delegates-at-large to the annual meeting of the American National Cowbelles scheduled Jan. 27, 28, and 29 in Memphis, Tenn.

Desperate Freedom Dash By Con Fails

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — A convicted murderer made a desperate dash for freedom Wednesday — abducting six persons, stealing four cars and robbing a store.

Howard O. Lowery, 25, was captured five hours later, 70 miles away, by a highway patrolman. He was alone — armed with a shotgun and a single shell — but offered no resistance.

Trooper John Eddleman pulled in behind Lowery when the escapee turned off U.S. 270 onto a county road near Watonga in Blaine County after a chase at speeds above 100 miles per hour.

"The car just wouldn't go any faster," Lowery said later. "So I decided to just give up."

The story began when Lowery, serving a life term for a 1960 murder, was brought from the State Penitentiary at McAlester to University Hospital to have doctors look at his hand.

Lowery was sentenced to life in prison for the July 1960 slaying of Dan W. Sims, 30, Worthington, Pa. Sims' body was found beside a road west of here.

Today in Washington

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
WASHINGTON (AP)—In the news from Washington:

SMITHSONIAN: A $36 million showcase for the treasures of American history and technology opens its doors to the public today.

The Smithsonian's new two-block-long Museum of History and Technology was dedicated Wednesday night by President Johnson.

SOVIET FISHING: A Senate report declared Wednesday that the Soviet Union has the world's largest fleet of modern fishing vessels sailing in every ocean and crowding out other fishermen with strong-arm tactics.

The Senate Commerce Committee's report described the expansion of Russia's fishing industry as a peril to the U.S. fishing industry and a threat to the available supply of fish.

Soviet fishermen were accused in the report of using such tactics as hit-and-run collisions, crowding out other fishermen with trawler flotillas destroying pots and lines of other fishermen, using nets with tighter mesh than allowed under fishing treaties, and ignoring fish conservation plans.

RIGHTS COMMISSION: President Johnson is expected to fill vacancies next week on the Civil Rights Commission which for almost three months has been lacking a staff director and two commissioners.

White House sources said Wednesday that Johnson will probably name one or more commissioners and possibly the staff director.

PACIFICA: The FCC has dismissed allegations that the controversial Pacifica Foundation permitted "filthy" broadcasts and was affiliated with the Communist party.

The Federal Communications Commission renewed the Pacifica Foundation's radio licenses in Berkeley and Los Angeles, Calif., and in New York. The unanimous decision came after a four-year investigation.

The first chemical process ever discovered by man probably was heating wood to convert it into carbon or charcoal. Charcoal fuel, burning without flame or smoke, has twice the heating power of wood.

THEY GOTTA GO—The 1909-1928 "black cars" (top) in New York's Port Authority trans-Hudson fleet will be replaced by 162 new, aluminum, air-conditioned rapid transit cars (bottom) by mid-1965. The new cars are to be built by the St. Louis car division of General Steel Industries, Inc., at a cost of $16,850,210. It will be the nation's first all-air conditioned subway system.

How Weather Looks Today

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Official Weather Bureau summary of Ohio's weather:

Temperatures over Ohio Wednesday night were the warmest night time readings since November. Low readings were in the 40s under mostly cloudy skies.

A few sprinkles in the northeast counties were the only reported rainfall.

Mild, cloudy weather was in store for Ohio today, and afternoon temperatures will again reach the 50s and low 60s.

Tonight will remain cloudy, and a low pressure area from the southwest will bring chance of showers.

Cooler air will overrun the state Friday and occasional rain may occur, but temperatures will remain mostly above normal for this season.

Rhodes Holds Varied Parleys In U.S. Capital

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gov. James A. Rhodes and several other Ohio officials maintained a fast pace Wednesday in the nation's capital.

Rhodes said the main purpose of the two-day visit was to meet with Ohio's congressional delegation and to talk with the lawmakers about creating more jobs in the state.

But besides a non-political luncheon with the congressmen, Rhodes also held a news conference and met with Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare Anthony Celebrezze, among other things. He invited the cabinet members to attend the June 6-10 Governors Conference in Cleveland, and both accepted.

Questions put to Rhodes at his news conference were mostly about Ohio politics, and most drew "no comment." The governor said, "We did not come here to solve the political situation."

Sens. Stephen M. Young and Frank J. Lausche, D-Ohio, and all six Ohio Democratic House members attended Wednesday's luncheon.

The luncheon Rhodes said, "I am separating myself from politics, as we must have the cooperation of Democrats and not get into controversy. Our state needs new jobs. It can get them if we correlate our energies and know-how, strengths and capabilities."

The economic development of Ohio, he said, is not a monopoly of either political party but an obligation of both. He told newsmen that 40,000 new jobs were added to the state's economy in 1963, the sharpest increase in jobs in Ohio since 1955.

Rhodes did not speak with President Johnson during a visit to the White House Tuesday afternoon. He said the President had previously "given his tentative okay" to appear at the Governors' Conference.

The director of the State Department of Natural Resources, Fred E. Morr, conferred Wednesday with Gerald Horne, chairman of planning for the Interior Department's Public Lands Division. They discussed Ohio's $30 million program for parks, recreation and water impoundment.

The governor's party was scheduled to attend an open house at the Ohio Development Department's New Washington office before making the return trip to Columbus Wednesday night.

Ad Salesman's Killer Ordered into Hospital

MOUNT VERNON, Ohio (AP) —The man accused in the fatal shooting of a Mount Vernon News advertising salesman Richard Merrin last Oct. 30 has been ruled insane and sent to Lima State Hospital.

Orville Perkey, 33, was ordered confined by Common Pleas Court Judge Jay S. McDevitt Wednesday after testimony by two psychiatrists. Perkey will stand trial if he is ruled sane at some future time, officials said.

Pickaway National Farmer Organization Names Officers

The National Farmers Organization of Pickaway County met in the Grange and 4-H building this week for their monthly meeting and annual election of officers.

The secretary and treasurer reports were read. Raymond Hanawalt, in behalf of the trustees, gave the audit report of the treasurers books.

Fred Dountz, chairman of the meat bargaining committee gave a report of a favorable meeting with a Columbus meat packing company. Robert Barnes told of the signing of a contract with a milk processing plant in Newark. This was done through the State Dairy Bargaining committee.

Barnes announced a meeting of the state dairy bargaining and member meeting that will be held in Columbus February 4. Miles Kahler, chairman of the grain bargaining committee urged the members to continue to sign the voluntary grain sales agreement.

An increasing number of reports are coming into the national office each day where counties are going over the 300 thousand bushel mark.

Akronite Denies Plan To Head Glenn Drive

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Don Luffman of Akron has denied published reports that he would handle Lt. Col. John H. Glenn Jr.'s campaign for the Democratic U. S. Senate nomination. Luffman, who successfully managed Akron Mayor Edward O. Erickson's 1961 and 1963 campaigns, called the report "pure speculation."

However, Luffman said, "There's no doubt I'm going to be helping the astronaut in the campaign and I'm going to be doing everything I can for him."

The installation of officers and board members was conducted by Robert Barnes.

Preliminary plans for a "whole hog sausage feed" to be held in the future were laid.

Tom Overly, John Gifford, Vernon Gifford and Woodrow Workman volunteered to serve on the refreshment committee for the Feb. 18 meeting.

Rhodes Holds Varied Parleys In U.S. Capital

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gov. James A. Rhodes and several other Ohio officials maintained a fast pace Wednesday in the nation's capital.

Rhodes said the main purpose of the two-day visit was to meet with Ohio's congressional delegation and to talk with the lawmakers about creating more jobs in the state.

But besides a non-political luncheon with the congressmen, Rhodes also held a news conference and met with Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare Anthony Celebrezze, among other things. He invited the cabinet members to attend the June 6-10 Governors Conference in Cleveland, and both accepted.

Questions put to Rhodes at his news conference were mostly about Ohio politics, and most drew "no comment." The governor said, "We did not come here to solve the political situation."

Sens. Stephen M. Young and Frank J. Lausche, D-Ohio, and all six Ohio Democratic House members attended Wednesday's luncheon.

The luncheon Rhodes said, "I am separating myself from politics, as we must have the cooperation of Democrats and the cooperation of Republicans and not get into controversy. Our state needs new jobs. It can get them if we correlate our energies and know-how, strengths and capabilities."

The economic development of Ohio, he said, is not a monopoly of either political party but an obligation of both. He told newsmen that 40,000 new jobs were added to the state's economy in 1963, the sharpest increase in jobs in Ohio since 1955.

Rhodes did not speak with President Johnson during a visit to the White House Tuesday afternoon. He said the President had previously "given his tentative okay" to appear at the Governors' Conference.

The director of the State Department of Natural Resources, Fred E. Morr, conferred Wednesday with Gerald Horne, chairman of planning for the Interior Department's Public Lands Division. They discussed Ohio's $30 million program for parks, recreation and water improvement.

The governor's party was scheduled to attend an open house at the Ohio Development Department's New Washington office before making the return trip to Columbus Wednesday night.

Tips on Income Tax —

Each Exemption Worth $600 on Every Return

EDITOR'S NOTE — Do you know who to claim as a dependent in filing a tax return on 1963 income? Do you understand how to claim exemptions for the full-est benefit to yourself? In this fourth of five articles you will find the answers to these and other questions that may save you money.

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press Writer

You knock $600 off your income—before what's left is taxable—for each exemption you can claim in filing your 1963 income tax return.

A person filing a return gets a $600 exemption for himself if he is under 65, an additional $600 if he's 65, and $600 if he's blind. He gets the same for his wife.

JFK Library Fund Swells

WASHINGTON (AP) — Plans for a President John F. Kennedy Library are meeting enthusiastic public approval and support, a spokesman for the project said today.

More than $2 million of the needed $10 million has been received — including a $1-million primer from the Kennedy Foundation. Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, a brother of the late president, has said the family hopes the fund-raising drive will be over in six months.

The thousands of letters from a public which mourned Kennedy's death — he was assassinated two months ago today — bear witness to the support for the library to be built near Harvard University.

Contributions have ranged from $1 to $50,000.

In ancient Rome, at New Year's, all work stopped, school closed, courts handed down no sentences, revelers gamboled in masquerade and gifts such as waxen fruit, candles and dolls were exchanged.

The person filing a return also gets a $600 exemption for each person he can claim as a dependent but he doesn't get any extra $600 if the dependent is 65 or blind.

Who's a dependent? It varies. Your child can be claimed as a dependent if he was born or died in 1963 (but not a stillborn child) if you contributed to more than half his support in that part of the year when he was alive.

Age is a vital factor in deciding whether you can claim your own child as a dependent, or a stepchild or adopted child. The age is 19.

If he was under 19 and you provided more than half his support, you can claim him as a dependent and it wouldn't make any difference how much income he had, under or over $600.

But if he was over 19 and had $600 or more income—even though you contributed more than half his support—you couldn't claim him as a dependent unless he qualified as a full-time student.

Your over-19 child would not qualify as a full-time student if he had a regular or part-time job or went to night school or took correspondence courses.

What happens if your under-19 child, or your over-19 child who qualifies as a student dependent, had $600 or more income? He would file his own return, claiming his own $600 exemption, and paying any tax he owed but you could take a $600 exemption for him on your return and not have to include his income in your return.

A paid servant in your house can not be claimed as a dependent. But a friend can be if he lived in your house the full year and got more than half his support from you—provided any income of his own did not amount to as much as $600 for the year.

If he had $600 or more income he'd have to file his own return, taking his own $600 exemption, and you couldn't claim him as an exemption even though you did contribute to more than half his support.

The following relatives—in addition to your child—can be claimed as dependents if the rules given below apply to them:

Your grandchild, great-grandchild, and so on; your legally adopted child or stepchild, but not the latter's descendants; your brother or sister; your parents, grandparents, or other direct ancestors, but not a foster parent; your stepfather or stepmother; your niece or nephew, meaning a son or daughter of your brother or sister; your father-in-law, mother-in-law, son-in-law, daughter-in-law, brother-in-law or sister-in-law.

Death or divorce does not end those relationships. For example: you can continue to claim your father-in-law as a dependent—even though your wife died or divorced you—if he got more than half his support from you.

The relatives listed above did not have to live with you to qualify as dependents. For example: you may have been paying more than half the support of your mother or father who was living with your brother.

In short: you can claim any of them as a dependent if he did not have as much as $600 of his own taxable income and got more than half his support from you.

Right here an important point arises in deciding who's a dependent. It is the difference between taxable and non-taxable income.

Social Security benefits are non-taxable. They do not have to be reported by anyone who had to file a return because he had $600 or more taxable income from some other source.

But when you as a taxpayer want to decide whether someone you wish to claim as a dependent got more than half his support from you, you may have to consider his Social Security income to this extent:

You must figure the support you gave him against the support he got from all other sources. For example: suppose your mother got $700 in Social Security benefits but put the money in the bank and didn't use it to live on. You could claim her as a dependent if you provided more than half her support.

But, suppose she used her $700 to help her live. You couldn't claim her as a dependent unless you contributed more than $700 to her support.

Next: Deductions for personal expenses.

Views on Television—Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — "CBS Reports" producer Jay McMullen patiently followed the trail of il-legal heroin from a field of waving poppies in Turkey to the corner of 118th street and Madison Avenue in New York's Harlem where concealed cameras showed addicts buying, at $3 or $5 per bag, their daily supplies.

Over a period of almost two years, he talked to American,
Oriental and European police authorities, international smugglers, gangsters, junk peddlers and addicts.

He recorded authoritative testimony that most of the heroin smuggled into the United States is processed in clandestine laboratories in Marseilles, France, but that the important middlemen in the traffic are the Sicilian Mafia and Corsican gangsters.

The results of all this effort were shown on Wednesday nights "The Business of Heroin." But McMullen turned up little that has not already been thoroughly explored and reported.

Most shocking portion of the program were interviews with addicts, and their toneless voiced descriptions of the terrible agony of withdrawal.

There were some rather theatrical moments — a masked man talking about the Mafia, a convicted wholesaler of heroin whose face was kept in deep shadow as he described his "business" which netted him more than half a million dollars a year.

The pending demise of "The Judy Garland Show" at the end of March, announced Wednesday by CBS, hardly comes as a surprise. There have been troubles connected with the variety series since last July when only four programs had been taped.

Recommended tonight: Perry Como Show, NBC, 10-11 (Eastern Standard Time) — With

Briley Taps Taft For Senate Post

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — John Marshall Briley, defeated by Sen. Frank J. Lausche in a 1962 bid for an Ohio seat the U.S.
Senate, said he is supporting Rep. Robert Taft Jr. in his attempt for the Senate.

Briley, who lives in nearby
Perrysburg, had been mentioned as a possible Republican candidate but he said today that he definitely will not enter the race because of personal reasons.

He said he favored Taft over
Secretary of State Ted Brown, the only other announced GOP candidate, because of the Taft's experience as a four-term member of the Ohio General Assembly and as congressman - at-large.

16 Million Rural Yanks In Poverty

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sixteen million of the nation's 35 million families living in poverty dwell in rural America, the Agriculture Department said Wednesday.

It classed as poverty families those with net incomes of $3-000 or less, including the value of food they produce for themselves and the rental value of homes they might own.

Rural poverty, the agency said, is concentrated in the Appalachian region stretching from Pennsylvania to Northern Alabama; in Southern states from Georgia and South Carolina westward to Texas and Oklahoma and then north into the southern parts of Illinois, Indiana and Ohio; in the depleted timber and iron ore ranges of the Northern Lakes States; in the Spanish-American areas of the Southwest, and in scattered parts of the Northwest.

The department said farmers comprise one-third of the impoverished rural families. The remainder, he said, are largely ex-farmers, former coal miners, older people, men who have worked in timber and are now carpenters, part-time highway workers or handymen who perform low-income jobs when they can find work.

Views on Television—Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—"CBS Reports" producer Jay McMullen patiently followed the trail of illegal heroin from a field of waving poppies in Turkey to the corner of 118th street and Madison Avenue in New York's Harlem where concealed cameras showed addicts buying, at $3 or $5 per bag, their daily supplies.

Over a period of almost two years, he talked to American, Oriental and European police authorities, international smugglers, gangsters, junk peddlers and addicts.

He recorded authoritative testimony that most of the heroin smuggled into the United States is processed in clandestine laboratories in Marseilles, France, but that the important middlemen in the traffic are the Sicilian Mafia and Corsican gangsters.

The results of all this effort were shown on Wednesday nights "The Business of Heroin." But McMullen turned up little that has not already been thoroughly explored and reported.

Most shocking portion of the program were interviews with addicts, and their toneless voiced descriptions of the terrible agony of withdrawal.

There were some rather theatrical moments — a masked man talking about the Mafia, a convicted wholesaler of heroin whose face was kept in deep shadow as he described his "business" which netted him more than half a million dollars a year.

The pending demise of "The Judy Garland Show" at the end of March, announced Wednesday by CBS, hardly comes as a surprise. There have been troubles connected with the variety series since last July when only four programs had been taped.

Recommended tonight: Perry Como Show, NBC, 10-11 (Eastern Standard Time) — With guest stars Jimmy Durante and Dorothy Provine and made in the Dallas State Fair Music Hall.

Briley Taps Taft For Senate Post

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — John Marshall Briley, defeated by Sen. Frank J. Lausche in a 1962 bid for an Ohio seat the U.S. Senate, said he is supporting Rep. Robert Taft Jr. in his attempt for the Senate.

Briley, who lives in nearby Perrysburg, had been mentioned as a possible Republican candidate but he said today that he definitely will not enter the race because of personal reasons.

He said he favored Taft over Secretary of State Ted Brown, the only other announced GOP candidate, because of the Taft's experience as a four-term member of the Ohio General Assembly and as congressman - at large.

Tips on Income Tax —

Each Exemption Worth $600 on Every Return

EDITOR'S NOTE — Do you know who to claim as a dependent in filing a tax return on 1963 income? Do you understand how to claim exemptions for the full benefit to yourself? In this fourth of five articles you will find the answers to these and other questions that may save you money.

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press Writer

You knock $600 off your income—before what's left is taxable—for each exemption you can claim in filing your 1963 income tax return.

A person filing a return gets a $600 exemption for himself if he is under 65, an additional $600 if he's 65, and $600 if he's blind. He gets the same for his wife.

JFK Library Fund Swells

WASHINGTON (AP) — Plans for a President John F. Kennedy Library are meeting enthusiastic public approval and support, a spokesman for the project said today.

More than $2 million of the needed $10 million has been received — including a $1-million primer from the Kennedy Foundation. Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, a brother of the late president, has said the family hopes the fund-raising drive will be over in six months.

The thousands of letters from a public which mourned Kennedy's death — he was assassinated two months ago today — bear witness to the support for the library to be built near Harvard University.

Contributions have ranged from $1 to $50,000.

In ancient Rome, at New Year's, all work stopped, school closed, courts handed down no sentences, revelers gambled in masquerade and gifts such as waxen fruit, candles and dolls were exchanged.

16 Million Rural Yanks In Poverty

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sixteen million of the nation's 35 million families living in poverty dwell in rural America, the Agriculture Department said Wednesday.

It classed as poverty families those with net incomes of $3,000 or less, including the value of food they produce for themselves and the rental value of homes they might own.

Rural poverty, the agency said, is concentrated in the Appalachian region stretching from Pennsylvania to Northern Alabama; in Southern states from Georgia and South Carolina westward to Texas and Oklahoma and then north into the southern parts of Illinois, Indiana and Ohio; in the depleted timber and iron ore ranges of the Northern Lakes States; in the Spanish-American areas of the Southwest, and in scattered parts of the Northwest.

The department said farmers comprise one-third of the impoverished rural families. The remainder, he said, are largely ex-farmers, former coal miners, older people, men who have worked in timber and are now carpenters, part-time highway workers or handymen who perform low-income jobs when they can find work.

New Idle Pay Claims Show Decline in Ohio

Grambling Leads Small Colleges

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Grambling and Assumption, unbeaten and with 26 victories between them, moved up in The Associated Press' small-college basketball poll today.

The Tigers from Grambling, La., replaced Evansville in first place, collecting four votes for the top position and 75 points in the balloting by a special panel of eight regional selectors.

Grambling has won 16 in a row. Evansville, 10-2, fell to second with three first-place votes and 65 points.

Assumption of Worcester, Mass., an also-ran last week, advanced to eighth place. The Greyhounds have won 10 in succession.

Kentucky Wesleyan climbed from seventh to third with 41 points. Washington of St. Louis is fourth with 31 points followed by Hofstra 30, Wittenberg, 27 and Western Carolina 26.

Ohio Racing Rules
Slated for Review

COLUMBUS Ohio (AP)—The Ohio State Racing Commission will conduct a hearing March 4 to discuss possible changes in racing regulations.

The commission, at a meeting Wednesday also denied George King of Van Wert an application for a license to race horses. King has been under suspension since Aug. 9, 1958, for creating a disturbance at a Kentucky track.

King said he will ask for a hearing on his application. He said his suspension from the Kentucky track resulted from his encounter with a man who had attempted to assault his wife. Since then, King, said, he has continued to hold a Kentucky license and has held a Standardbred Ohio license.

This application, he said, was for a license to race Thoroughbreds.

Coach Involved In 76er Dispute

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Philadelphia 76ers, who have been having trouble of late beating National Basketball Association opposition, now are scrapping among themselves.

Coach Dolph Schayes was involved in disputes with two of his players Wednesday night as Philadelphia dropped a 124-116 decision to the Baltimore Bullets for their fifth loss in a row.

In other action, Cincinnati handed Boston its worst defeat of the season 109-92 and Los Angeles whipped Detroit 110-101.

When Dave Gambee was removed from the Philadelphia-Baltimore game in the second quarter, he showed his displeasure by actions and words.

Schayes retaliated by ordering Gambee to the dressing room for the remainder of the game.

In the fourth quarter, Lee Shaffer cursed both Schayes and his replacement Ben Warley when he was ordered to the bench. Shaffer, who earlier was charged with a technical foul for cursing, did not return until the contest almost was over.

For the night, Gambee played seven minutes and Shaffer 13. Asked after the game to comment on the Gambee incident, Schayes said, "It's nothing I'd care to talk about. He left because he didn't feel well."

Asked if the players would be fined, the Philadelphia coach said, "Yes, a million dollars."

Cincinnati continued to plague the Celtics with its fifth victory in nine games between the teams. Oscar Robertson's 38 points paced the second-place Royals as they cut Boston's Eastern Division lead to 2½ games.

Cincinnati took the lead 10-9 in the first quarter and stayed in front the rest of the way. The biggest margin was 20 points.

Jerry West scored 42 points in leading Los Angeles over Detroit. The Lakers, who moved two games in front in the Western Division, broke open the game in the first six minutes of the second quarter, outscoring the Pistons 18-4. Bailey Howell led Detroit with 23 points.

OU Cagers Set Up Cry: 'Stop Newsome'

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
"Stop Newsome" is the cry on the Athens campus this week as Ohio University prepares to tangle with Western Michigan in an important Mid-American Conference basketball game Saturday.

The Bobcats, 4-1 in the rugged loop, can solidify their hold on first place with a victory over the second-place Broncos.

It's the top game of the week in the seven-member league in a schedule curtailed by examinations. The only other game on the card finds Kent State visiting Miami in a Saturday afternoon skirmish.

Newsome, of course, is Manny Newsome, the nation's No. 1 point-maker who has engineered the Broncos to a challenging position with a 3-1 record.

Both teams are riding four-game winning streaks, although the Bobcats have a better overall mark with 11-3 compared to Western Michigan's 7-7.

Ohio Coach Jim Snyder looks at it this way:

"We have to beat Western Saturday to stay alive. In fact, we dare not lose another conference game at home."

"There are no patsies in this league. Even Bowling Green and fast-improving Kent State have to be reckoned with."

In a bout earlier this month, Western outlasted the Bobcats 95-93 as a late Ohio surge fell short. Newsome hit for 39 points in that fray.

The Bobcats have no individual to counter Newsome's point-production antics. They pin their hopes on a balanced scoring attack.

Don Hilt, Mike Haley and Jerry Jackson are the big guns in Ohio's offense and the Bobcats also boast the best rebounding in the loop with 47.8 per game.

Miami, still in contention with 4-2, is expected to paid its re-ord at the expense of Kent. The Redskins fell from first to third place last week after two straight reversals.

No. 13, for a time Wednesday night, appeared to have its traditional jinx on Youngstown's basketball Penguins, but they rallied in the closing minutes to overtake Steubenville and claim a 64-61 victory.

It was the unbeaten Penguins' 13th victory of the season, and it tied the school's longest victory skein chalked up by the 1957 team.

A determined Steubenville squad battled down to the wire before Youngstown went ahead to stay at 61-59 on substitute

Larry Seneta's layup. Red Jones led the winners with 19 points while Gary Vogel had 20 for the Barons.

Kent State's Golden Flashes found the going rugged at Pittsburgh where the Panthers stormed to an 84-63 victory. Pitt boosted its lead to as much as 20 points in the second half.

Dave Sauer led the romp with 20 points while Dan Norris with 19 was high for the Flashes.

Fenn also clashed with a Pennsylvania team but fared better. The Foxes, with the help of a 31-point effort by Weldon Kyle, raced to an 83-63 victory over Allegheny at Meadville, Pa.

Hogan Feels No Regrets In Retirement

NEW YORK (AP)—"I have no regrets," Ben Hogan said. "A man has to quit some time. I've never been sorry I stopped when I did."

The mushrooming $100,000-plus purses and the pressure of bigtime golf, intensified by the heavyweight duel between Arnold Palmer and Jack Nicklaus, no longer hold a lure for the tough little master from Fort Worth, Tex.

"If I could get some semblance of a putting stroke I would play in more tournaments, just for the pleasure of it," added Hogan, who was presented the Gold Tee Award Wednesday night by the Metropolitan Golf Writers Association. "But I'm not eager to win any more championships, just for championships' sake."

Hogan insisted he never was haunted by the thought that he might have won an unprecedented fifth National Open championship, passing Willie Anderson and Bob Jones, had he not cut short his competitive career in 1955.

"If I had kept playing, I might have won another Open, and again I might not," he said. "As far back as 1953, my best year, I could tell I was beginning to lose my nerve in putting."

Lo, Poor Indian Is Poor But He's Not Vanishing

WASHINGTON (AP) — The phrase "vanishing American" is out of date. For American Indians are experiencing a population explosion.

But if you say "lo, the poor Indian" you will be right. Most American Indians are beset by numbing, spirit-sapping poverty.

But leaders of the National Congress of American Indians cheered at the White House this week when President Johnson promised to pay special attention to Indians in his "war on pockets of poverty."

At the Indian Congress headquarters Wednesday, executive director Robert Brunette said there were perhaps 750,000 Indians in the country when the white man arrived.

Over the century, the number declined to maybe 150,000. But it is now back up to around 650,000. Indians are increasing 20 per cent faster than whites.

On the reservations, conditions are bad, all told. President Johnson noted that unemployment among Indians is 49 per cent and that the average Indian dies at 42 compared with a national average of 62.

"What do you eat?" a reporter asked a group of Crow Indians from Montana, who had donned splendid eagle feathers for the interview.

"Food, mostly," said Alex LaForge, who besides the feathers had a beautiful necktie with a crow on it.

Brunette was more detailed: "If it weren't for government surplus food, three quarters of our people would starve."

"Trouble is, the food runs mostly to corn meal, flour, rice, beans, lard and some cheese. Mostly starchy. A lot of Indians are paunchy but not healthy."

As for education, most Indian kids cannot even get clothes to go to college in, let alone money, Brunette said.

What does the Indian need? "He's proud and doesn't want handouts," Brunette said. "But he should be able to get credit to develop his land, like every other American. Now, much of it is leased out to non-Indians."

What about Indians who struck it rich? A few of them did, Brunette said — like some Osages who had oil under their land in Oklahoma, and a handful of Agua Caliente Indians who owned the desert where Palm Springs, Calif., now stands. But they are rare exceptions, he said.

Auto Strikes Young Girl

A young girl was injured when struck by a car 6:59 p.m. yesterday on E. Ohio St., near S. Court.

Kathryn Sue Thurston, 6, of 148½ W. Main St., suffered bruises on the forehead, left ankle and right hand. She was treated at Berger Hospital.

Driver of the car was Wayne Hartley, 25, Route 2, Laurelville. His car was headed east on Ohio St.

Hartley told Sgt. Leroy Hawks and Patrolman Richard Blaney he did not see the girl in time to avoid the accident. Witnesses said the youngster apparently ran in front of the car as she was attempting to cross Ohio St.

Cincinnati Guilty Of Robbery, Rape

CINCINNATI (AP) — James L. Lackey, 28, of Cincinnati was convicted by a jury Wednesday of the Aug. 12, 1963, rape and robbery of an 18-year-old student nurse.

Common Pleas Court Judge Carson Hoy withheld sentencing pending a mandatory mental examination of Lackey at Lima State Hospital.

Initial Steps Under Way For Circleville Flying Club

About 45 persons were on hand last night for the organization of a new Circleville flying club.

While the group, both men and women, did not adopt an official name for the organization, it did name officers. Robert W. Litter, 1051 Georgia Rd., was named president and Richard C. Pettit, 568 Springhollow Rd., will serve as secretary-treasurer.

The group will hold its second meeting Feb. 12 in Prairie Lanes Recreation Center, site of last night's gathering.

Both Circleville air strips were represented at the organizational meeting: Lucy and Leon Ostrander, who operate Thomas Field west of the city; and Robert Elsea and Warren Harmon of Elsea Field, north of the city.

THE CHARTER meeting was highlighted by the showing of two instructional movies, including a documentary on air safety. Dr. Ray Carroll, member of the flying physicians organization, handled the movie projector.

Future meetings are expected to include other instructional materials, along with adoption of club bylaws and "hanger talk."

Last night's hanger talk included the possibilities that the group could sponsor creation of local Air Scout troop, a Civil Air Patrol unit, emergency flying services and establishment of more modern airport facilities.

Litter stressed that the club is open to pilots and non-pilots alike and that anyone interested in aviation could join the group. No dues schedule has been adopted by the club.

Business Briefs

More than 10,000 trade buyers of hardware and allied products will meet in Columbus Feb. 16, 17, and 18 to attend the Mid America Hardware Show and Convention Session of the Ohio Hardware Assn. sponsors of the Show.

The Mid America Show, largest of its type in the U. S., will have the largest attendance in its 71-year history, according to John B. Conklin, Secretary-Treasurer of the Association.

Hal D. Dickinson, of the Circleville Hardware Store, Association county chairman, is helping plan the forthcoming show and convention.

The Mid America Show will be held in Veterans Memorial where buyers will see product lines and hundreds of new products being introduced by more than 200 of the leading manufacturers in the U. S. According to Conklin, this is due to the general business optimism expressed by retailers as well as the many interesting exhibitions, convention sessions, and outstanding speakers on the program.

Among the well-known speakers who will address sessions at the recently completed Columbus Plaza will be Drew Pearson, internationally-known columnist, author and lecturer. His talk is scheduled at noon, Feb. 18.

Dr. Alton Doody of Ohio State University and Mr. Ralph Negri of the National Cash Register Company are scheduled to address the session on Monday. In addition, a "How To" workshop clinic — a new innovation in trade show convention sessions, is scheduled with outstanding Mid-West retailers leading the scheduled workshop clinics.

John Magill, owner and operator of the Western Auto Associate Store here for the past 30 years, attended the Western Auto Merchandise Show at New Castle, Pa., last weekend. He was accompanied by his wife.

Magill said the show included demonstrations and product information clinics designed to help dealers serve their customers better and formulate selling plans for the new year.

He said the show is one of 16 being held during January throughout the country for more than 3,800 home-owned and operated stores.

New appliances, automotive supplies and thousands of other items were on display in the huge exhibition hall.

A "dream holiday" for two in Spain and Portugal has been won by Richard H. Clifton, 502 N. Pickaway St., general manager of the Jim Sagar Rambler firm in Columbus. The nationwide contest for Rambler dealers was sponsored by American Motor Sales Corp.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifton will leave by jet airplane Jan. 25 and will spend a week visiting Madrid and Lisbon. Activities will include visits to famous castles, museums and other prominent attractions. American Motors' executives will be on hand to act as hosts.

MIAMI (AP) — Thirty-eight-year-old Jerry Chapin of Miami is a severely paralyzed polio victim but is a nationally known puppeteer.

He and his wife, also a puppet expert, frequently present road shows and once staged a performance at the White House for Caroline Kennedy.

However, Chapin has one blot on his record. He once was arrested during a hurricane for speeding in his wheelchair — which was equipped with a homemade sail.

A study disclosed that a certain type of snail travels 23 inches an hour.

Both Circleville air strips were represented at the organizational meeting: Lucy and Leon Ostrander, who operate Thomas Field west of the city; and Robert Elsea and Warren Harmon of Elsea Field, north of the city.

THE CHARTER meeting was highlighted by the showing of two instructional movies, including a documentary on air safety. Dr. Ray Carroll, member of the flying physicians organization, handled the movie projector.

Future meetings are expected to include other instructional materials, along with adoption of club bylaws and "hanger talk."

Last night's hanger talk included the possibilities that the group could sponsor creation of local Air Scout troop, a Civil Air Patrol unit, emergency flying services and establishment of more modern airport facilities.

Litter stressed that the club is open to pilots and non-pilots alike and that anyone interested in aviation could join the group. No dues schedule has been adopted by the club.

Business Briefs

More than 10,000 trade buyers of hardware and allied products will meet in Columbus Feb. 16, 17, and 18 to attend the Mid America Hardware Show and Convention Session of the Ohio Hardware Assn. sponsors of the Show.

The Mid America Show, largest of its type in the U. S., will have the largest attendance in its 71-year history, according to John B. Conklin, Secretary-Treasurer of the Association.

Hal D. Dickinson, of the Circleville Hardware Store, Association county chairman, is helping plan the forthcoming show and convention.

The Mid America Show will be held in Veterans Memorial where buyers will see product lines and hundreds of new products being introduced by more than 200 of the leading manufacturers in the U.S. According to Conklin, this is due to the general business optimism expressed by retailers as well as the many interesting exhibitions, convention sessions, and outstanding speakers on the program.

Among the well-known speakers who will address sessions at the recently completed Columbus Plaza will be Drew Pearson, internationally-known columnist, author and lecturer. His talk is scheduled at noon, Feb. 18.

Dr. Alton Doody of Ohio State University and Mr. Ralph Negri of the National Cash Register Company are scheduled to address the session on Monday. In addition, a "How To" workshop clinic — a new innovation in trade show convention sessions, is scheduled with outstanding Mid-West retailers leading the scheduled workshop clinics.

John Magill, owner and operator of the Western Auto Associate Store here for the past 30 years, attended the Western Auto Merchandise Show at New Castle, Pa., last weekend. He was accompanied by his wife. Magill said the show included demonstrations and product information clinics designed to help dealers serve their customers better and formulate selling plans for the new year.

He said the show is one of 16 being held during January throughout the country for more than 3,800 home-owned and operated stores.

New appliances, automotive supplies and thousands of other items were on display in the huge exhibition hall.

A "dream holiday" for two in Spain and Portugal has been won by Richard H. Clifton, 502 N. Pickaway St., general manager of the Jim Sagar Rambler firm in Columbus. The nation wide contest for Rambler dealers was sponsored by American Motor Sales Corp.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifton will leave by jet airplane Jan. 25 and will spend a week visiting Madrid and Lisbon. Activities will include visits to famous castles, museums and other prominent attractions.

American Motors' executives will be on hand to act as hosts.

Speeding with Sail
MIAMI (AP) — Thirty-eight-year-old Jerry Chapin of Miami is a severely paralyzed polio victim but is a nationally known puppeteer.

He and his wife, also a puppet expert, frequently present road shows and once staged a performance at the White House for Caroline Kennedy.

However, Chapin has one blot on his record. He once was arrested during a hurricane for speeding in his wheelchair — which was equipped with a homemade sail.

A study disclosed that a certain type of snail travels 23 inches an hour.

Lo, Poor Indian Is Poor But He's Not Vanishing

WASHINGTON (AP) — The phrase "vanishing American" is out of date. For American Indians are experiencing a population explosion.

But if you say "lo, the poor Indian" you will be right. Most American Indians are beset by numbing, spirit-sapping poverty.

But leaders of the National Congress of American Indians cheered at the White House this week when President Johnson promised to pay special attention to Indians in his "war on pockets of poverty."

At the Indian Congress headquarters Wednesday, executive director Robert Brunette said there were perhaps 750,000 Indians in the country when the white man arrived.

Over the century, the number declined to maybe 150,000. But it is now back up to around 650,000. Indians are increasing 20 per cent faster than whites.

On the reservations, conditions are bad, all told. President Johnson noted that unemployment among Indians is 49 per cent and that the average Indian dies at 42 compared with a national average of 62.

"What do you eat?" a reporter asked a group of Crow Indians from Montana, who had donned splendid eagle feathers for the interview.

"Food, mostly," said Alex LaForge, who besides the feathers had a beautiful necktie with a crow on it.

Brunette was more detailed: "If it weren't for government surplus food, three quarters of our people would starve."

"Trouble is, the food runs mostly to corn meal, flour, rice, beans, lard and some cheese. Mostly starchy. A lot of Indians are paunchy but not healthy."

As for education, most Indian kids cannot even get clothes to go to college in, let alone money, Brunette said.

What does the Indian need?

"He's proud and doesn't want handouts," Brunette said. "But he should be able to get credit to develop his land, like every other American. Now, much of it is leased out to non-Indians."

A few of them did, Brunette said — like some Osages who had oil under their land in Oklahoma, and a handful of Agua Caliente Indians who owned the desert where Palm Springs, Calif., now stands. But they are rare exceptions, he said.

Auto Strikes Young Girl

A young girl was injured when struck by a car 6:59 p.m. yesterday on E. Ohio St., near S. Court.

Kathryn Sue Thurston, 6, of 148½ W. Main St., suffered bruises on the forehead, left ankle and right hand. She was treated at Berger Hospital.

Driver of the car was Wayne Hartley, 25, Route 2, Laurelville. His car was headed east on Ohio St.

Hartley told Sgt. Leroy Hawks and Patrolman Richard Blaney he did not see the girl in time to avoid the accident. Witnesses said the youngster apparently ran in front of the car as she was attempting to cross Ohio St.

Cincinnati Guilty Of Robbery, Rape

CINCINNATI (AP) — James L. Lackey, 28, of Cincinnati was convicted by a jury Wednesday of the Aug. 12, 1963, rape and robbery of an 18-year-old student nurse.

Common Pleas Court Judge Carson Hoy withheld sentencing pending a mandatory mental examination of Lackey at Lima State Hospital.
